NEW TREATY WITH JAPS DEMANDED

President Is Committed to Revision of Exclusion Feature In Law

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—President Coolidge, in signing the immigration bill, has committed himself to the negotiation of a new treaty with Japan which shall supersede the objectionably phrased provisions excluding Japanese from entry into the United States.

The president had no way of separating the Japanese section of the bill from the other provisions, but he states emphatically that if they had been separated he would have disapproved the exclusion feature. The only legislative remedy open to him is to proceed to a separation. This can be accomplished by the negotiation of a formal treaty with Japan incorporating all the provisions of the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" which has been suddenly abrogated by America. Then the United States Senate, by two-thirds vote, can ratify the treaty, and the present law becomes inoperative so far as the Japanese section is concerned. In the present temper of the Senate a two-thirds vote would be lacking, but the United States cannot afford to omit any effort to reconstruct the damage done to relations with Japan, and the process of negotiation would, in the interim, even if prolonged, serve as an objective which would assist in calming the bitter feelings provoked by the action of Congress.

Offensive to Japan

The Japanese are ready and willing to withhold their citizens from American shores and co-operate with the American immigration authorities, but they object to the language employed in the bill. The president has characterized the method of accomplishing Japanese exclusion as unnecessary, and as offensive to Japan. To wipe out the offense, diplomacy begins to work at once. While immigration is a domestic

FORMER SHERIFF SLAYS ATTORNEY

Wealthy L. A. Lawyer Shot In Texas Hotel Lobby After Altercation

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 28.—John T. Honea, 60 years old, former sheriff, was at liberty under bond of $10,000 today, charged with the slaying of John W. Estes, 55, wealthy Fort Worth and Los Angeles attorney, who was shot through the heart and brain in a crowded lobby of a hotel here last night.

Estes died almost instantly. Honea declined to make any statement today other than that he had threatened his life. The two men met in the hotel last night, exchanged a few words in a low voice and the shooting followed.

Brushing Teeth to Be After-Dinner Sport, Prediction

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—"Excuse me, please, while I brush my teeth."

This, Miss Anita C. Junck, president of the Dental Hygienists, declared in an address today before the California State Dental association, now in convention here, may become a popular after-dinner sport. She also declared that for the best results teeth should be brushed at least four times a day, and that in order to do this the pocket tooth brush may soon join the ranks of the fountain pen, pocket comb and other such articles considered indispensable to everyone's personal accessories.

Japan to Protest Exclusion Feature Of Immigrant Law

WASHINGTON, May 28.—A formal protest against the Japanese exclusion provision of the new immigration law will be presented to Secretary of State Hughes within the next twenty-four hours by Masanao Hanihara, the Japanese ambassador, it was learned here this afternoon.

The text of the protest, as drafted by the Tokio foreign office, is now en route here by cable and is expected to reach the Japanese embassy this evening.

CHANGES ON STAFF OF TEACHERS

Board of Education In Session Arranges for New Structure

The regular meeting of the Board of Education, held last night, was taken up largely with the work of appointing teachers for the coming year. All members of the board, Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. A. C. Brown, H. J. Hibben, E. H. Learned and H. W. Chase, were present, in addition to Superintendent Richardson D. White.

L. T. Rowley was appointed superintendent of the child welfare and attendance department. Richardson D. White was authorized to prepare the budget for the next year.

AD CLUB OF GLENDALE FORMED

Forty Members Enrolled at Organization Meeting Of Business Men

The Glendale Advertising club was launched last night with forty members, at an organization meeting held in the Alley Inn, 210½ South Brand boulevard, Ed N. Radke presiding as temporary chairman.

Seven members of the Pasadena chapter of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World were present, headed by their president, Frank B. Guernsey, advertising manager of the Pasadena Furniture company.

The value of such a club in a city like Glendale was pointed out by Mr. Guernsey. He was followed by E. R. Buck, representing the Pasadena Star-News, who told of the value to both buyer and seller that lies in advertising and urged that in order to get the most out of a club the members must attend the meetings, put their best efforts into committee work and see that the merchants of the city as well as the newspaper advertising men have an active interest in the club.

Personal Contact

Fred Boyer of the Pasadena Post talked on the personal contact angle of merchants with one another, showing how this brought about a better understanding. F. L. Gradwell of the Metropolitan Clothes shop, Pasadena, explained the work of the Vigilance committee in raising

HINTS OF THIRD PARTY ARE MADE

LaFollette Declares They Must Reckon With Him In Fall Election

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, guiding genius of the insurgent forces that control the sixty-eighth Congress, served notice today on the leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties that he must be reckoned with in any calculations designed to elect a president of the United States in November.

While not announcing his candidacy for the presidency, La Follette charged both parties with failure and declared that unless substantial changes are forthcoming a "long suffering and righteously indignant people will find in the coming campaign effective means, independent of both these old parties, to take back control of their government and make it truly representative."

This announcement was interpreted as a clear indication of La Follette's willingness to head an independent political movement.

JOHNSON OPPOSES ANY WORLD COURT

Senator Announces He Will Not Support Pepper's Plan or Report

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican of California, told the Senate today that he opposed the United States joining the world court under any terms and announced he would not support the Pepper plan endorsed by other Republican members of the Senate foreign relations committee.

"I want the record to show," said Johnson, "that I do not subscribe to the Pepper report nor do I concur in it."

Marx to Keep All Social Democrats From New Cabinet

BERLIN, May 28.—Former Chancellor Marx today consented to attempt the formation of a new cabinet to succeed the coalition government which resigned Monday night. He notified President Ebert he would try to create a ministry on the basis of bourgeois parties. Social Democrats will have no posts in the new government.

MAN HIT BY AUTO NEAR DEATH

Frank Lechner In Critical Condition as Result Of His Injuries

Frank Lechner, 1129 East Maple street, superintendent of the city dump, lies at the Research Hospital in a critical condition as the result of injuries received when struck by an automobile driven by Cesari Vincioni, of Burbank, at the intersection of West Broadway and San Fernando road shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Lechner was crossing San Fernando road on his way to work when the machine struck him. Seeing that his injuries were dangerous, he was placed in a machine and rushed to the hospital by Fred Strehlein, of the Cobblestone service station, and E. F. Hedden, 3858 Riviera avenue, Los Angeles, where everything possible is being done to save his life.

Many Injuries

Lechner, a man over 50 years of age, according to a statement made by the attending physician, has three fractured ribs, a punctured lung, fractured shoulder blade and numerous scalp wounds and bruises. His recovery is doubtful.

Vincioni was not held by the authorities, but will be arrested if Lechner's injuries prove fatal, they state.

ASKS SHARE OF VEHICLE TAX FUND

City Manager Wants City's Portion of Money From Motor Receipts

A demand has been made on the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county by V. B. Stone, city manager of Glendale, for this city's portion of the tax money collected under the motor vehicle registration act during 1923.

Los Angeles county's share of the tax receipts, now in the hands of the supervisors, is ready for allotment, and Mr. Stone has asked that the maximum amount possible be set aside for the improvement of San Fernando road within the city limits of Glendale.

"Under the law," said Mr. Stone this morning, "the supervisors are allowed to spend this money within the corporate limits of a municipality on a state highway. Recently they allotted $100,000 for the improvement of San Fernando road in Los Angeles. My application was the first one made to the supervisors. I did not specify any amount, but asked for the largest sum that could be set aside."

Mr. Stone said this morning that this fund was not to be confused with the gasoline tax receipts. The money available at the present time was derived from vehicle registration in 1923. He added that if an amount was set aside, it did not necessarily mean that it would be available at once. It might not be expended until the contemplated widening proceedings are undertaken. The money could be applied to the cost of the project at that time, making it less expensive for the property owners in the assessment district.

The city manager requested that all improvement associations and other organizations pass resolutions addressed to the board of supervisors asking that this money might be appropriated for this purpose, as any influence brought to bear on the county authorities would be beneficial.

RUSH PROVISIONS TO ISLAND PORT

Inhabitants Starving, Few Ships Able to Land at Desolate Coast

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The coast guard cutter Algonquin has been rushed to Nikolaski, on Unmak island, Alaska, with provisions and clothing for starving inhabitants there, said a radiogram to the coast guard service here today.

About 100 families live in this desolate section on the coast of Alaska. Few ships are able to land there at this season, and as a result inhabitants have had little food or clothing since last March. Their condition was said to be serious.

Burn Illicit Liquor Worth Half Million

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—San Francisco's illicit booze supply, taken by prohibition agents on innumerable raids, was several thousand gallons less today, following destruction of half a million dollars' worth, under the supervision of Prohibition Director Samuel F. Rutter. With a score of thirsty onlookers as witnesses, the booze—the result of 4000 raids—was burned in the Oakland dump in the Bay View district.

Charges Monopoly In Alaskan Fish Trade

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover was denounced in the Senate today by Senator King, Democrat of Utah, for "helping to maintain a fishing monopoly in Alaska."

King charged Hoover's policy in awarding exclusive fishing contracts in Alaska was "harmful and unwarranted by law." The result, he added, was a "huge monopoly."

BIRTH RATE HIGHEST IN GLENDALE

City Holds American Record With 36.7 Babies Per 1000 Residents

Glendale had the highest birth rate in the United States in 1923, it is revealed in a statistical report compiled by the census bureau of the United States department of commerce, there being 36.7 babies born here during the year to each 1000 population.

Thus another record equally authentic with "the fastest growing city in America" is rolled up by this amazing municipality, which twice now in four years has reached out and annexed a fat plum from the national achievement tree.

The average birth rate for the entire country was 20 per 1000 of population, in 1923. The California average was slightly higher, being 21.2 in the cities and 20.4 in the rural communities. Los Angeles had a birth rate of 24.8 for the year.

San Bernardino was very high, with 35 babies per 1000; Santa Monica had 33.7, and Santa Ana had 29.7. Of nineteen California cities reporting, Venice trails at the end of the list with only seven births per 1000 population.

The report discloses the interesting information that, as a whole, the birth rate in California is higher in the cities than in the rural districts, but that the number of deaths of babies under 1 year old is larger in the latter than in the former. The average births for the state was 20.9 and deaths 14.3 for each 1000 population. Deathts were 73 in 1000 births. For the cities the same records were 21.2, 14.3 and 66, while in the rural communities they were 20.4, 14.1 and 84.

The department announced that birth rates for 1923 were lower than for 1922 in twenty-one of the twenty-seven states for which figures for the two years were available. The highest 1923 birth rate (34.8 per 1000 population) was shown for cities of Wyoming, and the lowest (15.6) was for rural districts of Montana.

Death rates for 1923 were slightly higher than for 1922 in twenty-five of the thirty-six states shown for both years. Three states, Connecticut, New York and North Carolina, have the same rates for 1923 as for 1922,

DEALERS TO HOLD FALL AUTO SHOW

Event Scheduled for Week Of June 23 Postponed, To Have Hi-Jinx

The automobile show, planned by the members of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' association for the week of June 23, has been postponed, it was announced at a meeting of the association held at the Egyptian Village today noon.

The show was to have been held in the new building of the Court Motor company, 901 South Brand boulevard, but Mr. Court today reported the building would not be completed in time for the show. Members of the association decided to hold the show late in the fall, but the time and place will not be arranged until later.

One of the big events of the season will be the dealers' Hi-Jinx party, to be held some time next month. President Lyman B. Clark, who presided at the meeting, appointed William Court, C. H. Hunter, P. A. Kelley, Don Packer and C. L. Smith as members of a committee to make all arrangements for the party, pick the location and provide the program.

It is the intention of the association to have the party this year surpass the event staged last June at Forest Home.

C. W. Leppla, of the Studebaker Corporation, was the guest of Don Packer at the luncheon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' association will be held at the Egyptian Village next Wednesday noon, June 4, it was decided at today's meeting.

Council Rejects Germany's Plea on Military Control

PARIS, May 28.—The inter-allied ambassadors' council today decided unanimously to send a note to Germany asserting the right of the allied military control commission to continue functioning in Germany. Germany's request that military control be turned over to the League of Nations was rejected.

COLE LEAVES ON JOURNEY ABROAD

Glendale Pastor to Attend Sunday School Meet In Scotch City

Chosen as one of the delegates from Southern California to the World's Sunday School convention at Glasgow, Scotland, Rev. Clifford A. Cole of the Central Christian church leaves tomorrow morning over the Santa Fe for the east to join other delegates in New York City. After the convention he will tour Western Europe, visiting many of the historic spots on the Continent and attending the World's fair at London as well as the Olympic games at Paris.

On the way East, Mr. Cole will stop over Sunday at St. Louis, where he formerly held a pastorate, and will spend the following week in Washington, D. C. On June 7, he will sail from New York on the Cunard liner Cameronia, chartered to carry delegates from the United States to the convention.

Will Tour Europe

Arriving in Glasgow on June 16, he will attend the convention in session there until June 28. He will then accompany one of the Thomas Cook & Son tours of Western Europe, spending a week in London and traveling extensively throughout the British Islands.

The tour will then continue on to Holland, where stops will be made at The Hague and Amsterdam. Then traveling down through Europe, Mr. Cole will visit Brussels and Strassbourg in Alsace-Lorraine. After a ten-day sojourn in Switzerland with trips through the Alps and a visit to Geneva, he will continue on to Paris.

He will be in Paris for five days and expects to attend the Olympic games which will be in progress there at that time. Leaving the tour at Paris, Mr. Cole will continue on down into Italy stopping at Milan and spending two days each at Florence and Venice. His final stop-

PLAN TO PUT FLEET INTO LINE EQUAL TO GREAT BRITAIN

Nation Prepared to Insist Elevation of Guns Not Violation of Treaty

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—While the House prepared today to approve an expenditure of $200,000,000 to make the United States navy equal in every respect to that of Great Britain, President Coolidge signed the 1924-25 naval appropriations bill, carrying a rider providing for a new international conference to limit aircraft, submarines and auxiliary craft.

Mr. Coolidge has announced that such a conference will not be called by him until economic reconstruction is effected in Europe, but by affixing his signature to the bill he definitely accepted the invitation of Congress to enter into treaties with Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy for the further limitation of naval armament.

America to Insist

The United States government is prepared to insist that the elevation of the guns on American capital ships to increase their firing range does not constitute a violation of the Washington naval treaty, it was learned today following a conference at the White House last night between President Coolidge and Congressional naval leaders.

Such a position is in conflict with the conflict of the British government and contrary to the stand taken by the late President Harding, who forced Congress to recall an appropriation of $6,500,000 to raise the guns.

Claim Violation

It was also decided to go ahead in Congress with legislation setting aside funds and authorizing the conversion of four American battleships from coal to oil burners, although the British prime minister has declared in the House of Commons that these improvements constitute another violation of the treaty.

The condition of the navy was outlined to the president at last night's conference by Secretary Wilbur who said that the naval

MRS. WILLIS COLLAPSES IN COURT

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—Mrs. Margaret Willis collapsed from a heart attack in the courtroom here today at her trial for the trunk murder of Dr. Benjamin B. Baldwin. As Mrs. Willis swayed in her chair and became deadly white she was picked up and rushed to the judge's chambers where she lost consciousness. Later she was removed to a hospital where heart stimulants were administered. As the woman murderer defendant was carried away, her carpenter sweetheart, Bert Webster, who helped her throw the trunk containing the physician's body down a ravine, sprang to her assistance but bailiffs pushed him aside.

GARBAGE LIQUOR JOLTS STUDENTS

University Men Shocked at Discovery of Basis of Whiskey Supply

TRENTON, N. J., May 28.—Students of Princeton University who have been regular patrons of Stefan Grisler, near Clarkesville, recently received the rather distressing information that the whiskey they are said to have bought had been produced from garbage gathered by Grisler from the kitchens of the university dining halls.

Grisler is a garbage collector who dabbled in chemistry. According to prohibition agents, who raided his establishment, Grisler conceived the plan of conducting a distillery in connection with his collections and set up a plant, using apple cores and other refuse.

According to the prohibition men, his output was used almost exclusively for consumption of college students. In the raid a 25-gallon still was found in operation.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS END AT COLLEGE

Students Busy Getting Ready For All Finals During Week of June 6

Social activities have ceased at Occidental for the remainder of the semester, not because of any faculty ruling but due to the approaching final semester examinations. All finals start Friday, June 6, and continue through June 12, and each examination for every subject is three hours. The students are taking every advantage of the new Mary Clapp Memorial library for study before the fateful week is at hand.

On the night of June 12, the senior class will present the annual play, the Greek tragedy, the Bacchanals of Euripides on the upper quad of the campus. On Saturday, June 14, at 10 a. m. the regular class day exercises will be held in the chapel. Commencement exercises will be in the afternoon.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Business Women

Dr. Jessie A. Russell was honored last night by the members of the Glnedale Business and Professional Women's club when they entertained with a social affair following the regular business session to bid farewell to their president who leaves today for an extensive trip East.

The meeting was held at the Glendale Commercial school at 224 South Brand boulevard. Preceding the social hour a short business session was held with Dr. Russell presiding when the officers for the coming year were nominated. The election of officers will take place at the next regular meeting, Tuesday night, June 10.

Plans are being made for a dinner and social to be given following the election. Mrs. G. U. Moyse, first vice-president of the club, will be in charge of arrangements.

Gifts of Linen

Miss Harriett Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cook, who will become the bride of Hal Weeks on June 3 at a ceremony to take place in the Glendale Presbyterian church, was complimented with a linen shower given last night by Mrs. Fred B. Walton and Mrs. C. A. Minter at the Cook home, 639 North Orange street.

The decorations were carried out with a profusion of pink roses, sweetpeas and greenery.

During the evening five hundred and Mah Jongg were enjoyed and an impromptu musical program presented. Just before serving the refreshments Miss Cook was presented with a number of lovely linen gifts from the guests present.

Those present included Misses Hazel Sparks, Helen Beach, Vivian Alspaugh, Hazel Thompson, Ann Gallagher, and Mesdames Charles Hatz, Joseph Cave, Clarence Redmond, Jack Jenkins, Clarence Miller, E. G. Spaulding, Lloyd Lancaster, Frank E. Beyea, B. F. Cook and the guest of honor, Miss Harriett Cook.

Birthday Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Allen of 1105 Green street, were hosts last Saturday night at a delightful affair when they entertained with a surprise party in the celebration of the birthday anniversary of their son-in-law, Fred Goodfellow of 705 South Adams street.

Spring flowers were used in profusion in decorating the rooms of the Allen home for the occasion.

The evening was devoted to playing bridge. Later refreshments were served and a beautifully decorated birthday cake was presented to the honoree.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Goodfellow and son Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Allen of Glendale and Miss Catherine Allen of Burbank, Mrs. Adair and Miss Birdie Adair, and Mrs. Holton of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bley of Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Ida May Dockter died yesterday, Tuesday, May 27, 1924, at a local hospital, following a major surgical operation performed on Monday.

She was 65 years of age at the time of her death and had lived in Glendale five years.

Surviving her are her husband, George Dockter, and a daughter, Ella Dockter, of Glendale; two sons, Clarence M. and Harper W. Dockter of Pennsylvania; and a brother, Nelson Hamilton, of Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Kiefer & Eyerick, directors.

MRS. ELLEN D. WORCESTER

Mrs. Ellen D. Worcester died this morning, Wednesday, May 28, 1924, at her home, 1257 Oakridge drive, at the age of 83 years.

Funeral services will be announced later by the L. G. Scovern Undertaking company.

STRATEGY TURNS ON ENDORSEMENT BY LA FOLLETTE

Support of Wisconsin Leader to Determine Nominee for Presidency

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The latest bit of campaign strategy affecting the selection of a Democratic presidential nominee is interwoven with Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. The McAdoo managers have started to spread the impression that if their leader is nominated the Wisconsin senator will not run independently.

So far as can be determined from the La Follette camp there is absolutely no guarantee that the senator will eliminate himself even if the Democrats nominate a man to his liking. But the railroad brotherhoods and their henchmen are quietly interesting themselves in the campaign, and would do anything in their power to bring about the nomination of the former director general of railroads who was kind to them when he was in office. There would be no harm, it is reasoned, in backing McAdoo at least up to the time of the Democratic convention, for the decision by La Follette does not have to be made until the Cleveland conference of July 4, when leaders of the Farmer-Labor group will meet to discuss their plan of campaign.

Campaign Strategy

The talk that Senator La Follette would like to have as a vice presidential nominee some one whom he could endorse if he did run independently is also a part of the effort to compel the Democrats to look to the radical and progressive wing of their party rather than to the conservative element for a nominee.

Naturally the McAdoo managers consider that their chieftain is the single progressive or radical eligible for La Follette support, but the Wisconsin senator would hardly approve any candidate who ran on a platform which did not include his pet issues like government ownership, something to which Mr. McAdoo is opposed.

Reduced to its essence, nobody can control LaFollette, not even the Democratic national convention, though the railroad brotherhoods may have a good deal of influence with him when he maps out his campaign. The rail men would not wish to see any votes go to La Follette unless it were apparent he had a good chance of victory, for, if he were likely to prove a bad third, they would concentrate on the nominee who seemed more friendly to their program.

Rail Bill Vital

The fate of the Howell-Barkley bill in Congress will have much to do with their attitude toward the Republican party and President Coolidge. To date the administration leaders have worked tooth and nail to prevent the measure from coming to a vote, while a coalition of Democrats and insurgent Republicans in the House have upset the rules in forcing consideration.

On the whole, it is more natural for the radicals to support the Democratic rather than the Republican ticket this time, for in practically all the important issues the radicals and Democrats have worked together. The tax bill is their creation, and farm legislation probably will come out of their united strategy. In a sense, the Democrats have become the radical party, and they will go to the country largely on the record made by their representatives in Congress during the last few months.

La Follette's Move

Speaking of radicals and progressives, the friends of Governor Al Smith are eager to know since when he cannot be classed as a progressive. His record as governor has been progressive. The McAdoo men reply that Smith himself may be a progressive, but that he is being supported by Tammany and conservative elements in the party—all of which, however, would be upset if two-thirds of the delegates voted for him. Al Smith could run on the platform of the convention as suitably as any other candidate. So could Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas, another progressive, and Senator Wheeler of Montana—talked of for vice president—and Senators Walsh of Montana and Glass of Virginia. They all class themselves as progressives, though some of them might go slow about tying up to La Follette.

The next move must come from Senator La Folette if he intends to influence the Democratic convention, but the chances are he will remain silent until after he has gone through the motions of at least trying to reform his own party at the convention which is to nominate President Coolidge. He will have ten days or more in which to speak then before the Democratic national convention begins its sessions.

Will Explain City's Recreation Program

L. T. Rowley of the park commission and R. Ernest Tucker of Community Service were in attendance today at the California Conference of Social Workers, now in session at Long Beach.

At a luncheon of the conference in that city tomorrow noon they will report on Glendale's type of park-playground-recreation organization, which is considered to be an advanced type and is being adopted in many cities.

HADDOCK SPEAKS ON SUBDIVISION

Responsibility of Brokers Behind Project Most Important, He Says

"Property subdivisions can have a beneficial effect on a city or they can exert a baneful influence on it if they are planned and marketed by irresponsible men who are lacking in vision," said Lon J. Haddock, in delivering his lecture on "Subdivisions" at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Realty Board in the Presbyterian church at noon today.

Mr. Haddock described the points that the sub-divider must consider before placing his property on the market. He must analyze the trend of the population with a view to laying out the tract in a manner that will produce the best results for those who purchase it and for the development of the community in which it is situated, he said, and he must realize that the potential value of a sub-division is greater than its immediate value.

In considering Glendale and its development, Mr. Haddock insisted that the realty men know first what kind of people are to settle in this city. They must study the needs and requirements of the people who will come here, and must lay out his property to meet those needs.

Glendale Home City

"Glendale," said Mr. Haddock, "is, to my mind, going to be always a homing city, where people of moderate means will settle, rather than an industrial city with many payrolls, and the bulk of the homes that are to be erected in Glendale must be for those who seek a place in the midst of nature at her best.

Vice-President W. L. Twining presided in the absence of President Peter Hanson, who left this morning for the realtors' convention at Washington, D. C.

It was decided that the realtors close their offices on Decoration Day.

Thomas W. Watson reported that the old bridge across the river at Los Feliz road would be kept open while the proposed new bridge is being erected, and he also stated that a conference would be held in the Automobile club offices in Los Angeles next Monday at noon to consider, with the Los Angeles Grade Crossing commission, the separation of the grade at Los Feliz and the Southern Pacific tracks.

PRISONER PARDONED

SACRAMENTO, May 28.—Pardoned by Governor Friend W. Richardson upon recommendation of the justices of the state supreme court and the sheriff and district attorney of Los Angeles county, Jose Hermandez, declared to have been unjustly convicted and sent to prison for the robbery of the National Bank of Arcadia, near Los Angeles, was released from Folsom prison, where he was serving an indeterminate sentence of from one year to life.

Hermandez was pardoned on the condition that he return to Mexico at once, however, as he was convicted once before of violating the law.

CLAIMS INACCURACIES

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Attorney-General Stone late yesterday took the Brookhart-Wheeler committee to task for permitting "inaccuracies" as to the workings of the department of justice to get into the official record of the investigation of the administration of former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty. In a letter to Senator Brookhart, chairman of the committee, Stone said he feared the public was getting a "false impression" of the department and urged in fairness to himself and his assistants that such inaccuracies be corrected.

RECOGNITION OF AMERICAN MUSIC WRITERS SOUGHT

Famous Club Leader Pleads For U. S. Composers In Talk to Women

"Let America make music the universal language, by giving due recognition to American composers and American music in establishing the great American school of music," was the plea made yesterday to Tuesday Afternoon club members and guests by Mrs. Annie F. Oberndorfer of Chicago, chairman of music for the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Oberndorfer has come west to attend the Biennial next month in Los Angeles, and the Tuesday Afternoon club was fortunate in being able to contact her charming personality before the great national gathering.

There is no woman in the United States more conversant with musical affairs than Mrs. Oberndorfer. During the war she represented the General Federation of Women's clubs as war work music chairman, handling the music wants and needs of American soldiers.

Renaissance Near

"America is facing the greatest renaissance in art that the world has ever known," declared Mrs. Oberndorfer in introducing her subject, "Hearing America First." She told of the Indian folk songs, the negro spirituals and the cowboy songs of the west, from which America has to draw her folk songs.

Giving a bitter arraignment of modern rag-time and jazz, she illustrated her facts with phono-

WOMEN ADVOCATE BIBLE READINGS IN ALL SCHOOLS

Congress of Mothers Seeks State Law Authorizing Scripture Period

California women of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations are ardent advocates of Bible reading in the schools, it was revealed at their recent twenty-fifth annual convention in Pasadena, where 300 women voted almost unanimously in favor of restoring the Bible to the public schools.

At the convention a resolution was passed asking the legislature to enact a law "providing that some portion of the Bible be read without comment in every public school and college in the state of California."

Reports from the convention, which was attended by a large delegation of Glendale women, state that a few of the women present were opposed to any resolution on the subject, others wanted the Bible read daily, and still others wanted the Bible used in the schools, solely as a reference book.

Best Literature

The text of the resolution on Bible reading in the schools follows:

"Realizing that the Bible is the best of literature known in all ages, past and present, and that the youth of today needs the influence of its inspiration, we, the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations do recommend that our legislative committee take necessary action to present to our state Legislature a bill providing that some portion of the Bible be read, without com-

First Cost is Last Cost
when You Build with Concrete Masonry

How much will your house cost you for upkeep during the next twenty years?

Nearly as much as you paid for it unless it is of permanent construction. And you can't get permanent construction without durable structural materials. They must be proof against fire, storm and decay.

Concrete grows stronger with age. It's fire-safe, wind-safe, and enduring. Concrete Masonry units — block, brick and tile — inherit these qualities.

Concrete Masonry is the modern Basic Building Material.

And it costs little if any more than less durable materials. Through its use you save on painting, repairing, fuel and depreciation. The money that would have gone to pay bills for upkeep goes into your pocket. It helps to pay off the building loan.

And there is the added satisfaction of owning a permanently attractive home with its enduring comfort and protection. That is yours without extra cost.

When you buy or build insist that YOUR home is built for enduring economy—of Concrete Masonry.

Watch for advertisements telling about the many other uses of concrete. And remember that the Portland Cement Association has a free personal service to offer you. Whether you use concrete or have it used for you, this service will give you more for your money.

Cherries' Ripening To Be Celebrated By Beaumont Folk

Celebrating the ripening of its most famous crop, Beaumont announces its sixth annual cherry festival this year from May 31 to June 8. Open house will be kept and the community invites residents and visitors in California to visit the exhibits, enjoy the entertainments, and utilize the camping facilities.

In former years a cherry day was held, but this annual festival has become so popular, and motor travel so heavy that the celebration will be extended over a full week.

ALL SCIOTS ON HUNT FOR MEET

Greatest Killing on Record to Take Place Here Saturday, June 7

Sciots of Pyramid No. 39 are leaving no stone unturned in their effort to "bring in the raw meat" in record "chunks" before their big birthday ceremonial on June 7. With fourteen prizes offered to industrious members who bring in the largest number of petitions before that date, there is a great deal of hopping around in the local pyramid of the Ancient Egyptian order, these days, according to Toparch H. M. Bennett, who donates one of the prizes, a life membership.

The Pharaoh, King of Kings—or in other words Toparch Bennett—sends from his imperial palace to all Sons of the Nile and denizens of Chyos the invitation to journey hither with their Libyans, their Bands and their Crocodiles, and on June 7 witness the greatest "slaughter of raw meat" since the days of Solomon.

ARTISTS TO GIVE SERVICES GRATIS

Harry James and Others to Appear at M. Collins' Benefit Thursday

At the request of Lieut. W. J. Royle, Sergeant R. Baugh and Motor Officer K. F. Butler, local artists are volunteering their services for the benefit dance to be given for Motor Officer Merle Collins at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand, Thursday night.

Officer Collins was hurt in a crash on Glendale boulevard about four weeks ago, and since he has been in the hospital, his wife has presented him with a fine eight pound baby girl. They are all in the same ward at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Lieut. Royle stated this morning that many musical specialities would be introduced during the evening. Mr. Hahn has donated the use of the hall, and Harry James, well known monologue artist and radio entertainer, has proffered his services and will appear on the program.

Nine Students Join Fraternity at Oxy

The Occidental chapter of the national dramatic fraternity, Theta Alpha Phi, held its annual initiation yesterday. Nine new members were taken in. They are: Margaret Crawford, Florence Stevenson, Verna Ruth, Anna Morsey, Helen Hodges, Carl Lindquist, Herbert Hamilton, Maynard Munger and Howard Harper. After enjoying the initiation, the organization held its election of officers for next year. The results were: Maynard Munger, president; Helen Hodges, vice president; Anna Morsey, secretary, and Paul Perkins, treasurer.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW MOURNS PASSING OF OLD LEADERS

Veteran of Many Political Conventions to Attend Cleveland Meet

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS
Copyright, 1924, by International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Holding with Omar that the "moving finger writes and, having writ, moves on," with man's memory unable to bring back a slight picture of it unless he be a personal witness to the scene, Chauncey M. Depew, the nation's oldest statesman, is here to view at least a part of the passing political show of 1924.

Other parts he will see at Cleveland, where he expects to celebrate sixty years' attendance at Republican conventions. He has not missed one since 1864, when he voted for the nomination of Lincoln.

Active at Ninety

Despite his 90 years, Depew, both mentally and physically active, is storing new impressions and confirming old ones for future elections.

Congress, he finds, has deteriorated from the body he knew twelve years ago while in the Senate; Republicans are greatly lacking in forceful leadership; Democrats are not blest with insurgents; Borah is the most outstanding example of statesmanship produced by Congress in a generation, and 1924 is a Republican year.

Recalls Leaders

These are a few of the impressions of the man who declined the secretaryship of state in Benjamin Harrison's cabinet, and who himself received 99 votes for the Republican presidential nomination at the convention of 1888.

"Times have changed since my days in the Senate," he began. "What the Republicans need is leadership; Democrats have them bested in this respect. In my day when you heard men like Hanna, Aldrich and Hale expounding party doctrines and explaining the need for supporting admirers you thrilled at it. You felt a joy in following, you were a leader yourself."

Will Face Charge of Driving While Drunk

C. J. Wolfley, 1183 Vose street, Lankershim, arrested yesterday by Motor Officer L. Jones, after an automobile crash near the Southern Pacific tracks, on Brand boulevard, and charged with driving while intoxicated, was arraigned before Judge F. H. Lowe this morning. His preliminary hearing was set for Monday, June 2.

Bond was fixed at $300 cash or $600 property. He was given until 2 o'clock this afternoon to furnish it.

Reports statae that the Glendale Community Symphony orchestra had a most profiitable rehearsal last night at the Harvard High school under the direction of J. Arthur Myers.

Work was done on the accompanment for "The Rose Maiden" (Cowen) and on "G Minor Symphony" (Mozart).

The orchestra s to go with the Choral club to the "sing" next Tuesday at Arroyo Seco, and also attend the moonlight picnic, June 14, at Santa Monica.

Missing Girl Sought By Local Detectives

Elizabeth, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lowe of Montrose, was reported to the police as missing last night.

She was described as being about five feet four inches tall, with bobbed dark hair, blue eyes and tan shoes. Detectives are looking for her.

Why I Am In Glendale

In our future expansion we must locate our new branches in the key cities. Of the cities of the west, one, Glendale excels. Destined to be one of the nation's ever alluring cities on account of location, climate, commercial and social activities: Glendale, a city of 50,000 people, is the metropolis of home lovers. There are no slums or tenements. Municipally owned water and light systems supply Glendalians economically.

Glendale has seven banks whose clearings give it one of the highest ranks in the United States. There is wonderful revenue produced in its seventy manufacturing concerns. Building permits are now in infancy; average of $1,000,000 per month last year. Glendale is a health resort; a city of low taxation; and the school system is preeminent.

These representative advantages (many more unnamed) explain why I settled, and every progressive, expanding concern, should settle in Glendale above all other cities.

HI-Y ACTIVITIES DURING MAY ARE TOLD IN REPORT

Local Group Maintains High Standard In Contests For Silver Cups

Glendale Hi-Y boys are maintaining a splendid standard in their various activities in the competition with other California Hi-Y clubs for the silver loving cups offered. Some of their accomplishments are found in the report for the month of May, just compiled by Rex C. Kelley, the Y. M. C. A. secretary for Glendale.

In Mr. Kelley's opinion the present year has been the most successful one in the history of the organization, both as to membership and results. The report for May bears out this opinion.

Month's Activities

Brief report for May shows that the Hi-Y boys entertained the Hi-Y club of Burbank at supper; junior and senior orchestras furnished music for Pasadena circus to raise money for summer camp; put on one act for the Pasadena circus; gave two entertaining features at social evening, when a church entertained boys during Boys' Week; paid preliminary registration fees of $2.50 to send an under-privileged boy to summer camp; held high school assembly and made $35 to purchase a radio receiving set for tubercular sanitarium; sang songs and gave flowers to patients at county hospital on Mothers' Day; furnished afternoon games for orphan boys' home; members spoke before meeting of Y. M. C. A. board of directors and local ministers in interest of proposed Y. M. C. A. building; held swim and supper at Pasadena; observed Mothers' Day by entertaining mothers of members at social evening; special speaker on "Going to College;" average attendance for four weekly meetings was 71.

Culminating the year's program the boys will enjoy a steak fry next Monday night at Patterson park. W. B. Kirk, who returned recently from a foreign trip, will be guest and speaker.

Officers of Club

Officers of the club are Bob Hatch, president; Kenneth Lee, vice-president; Lyle Wheeler, secretary; Richard Bickenbach, treasurer. Leaders of the seven groups are W. G. Boyd, G. E. Murphy, H. L. Butterfield, Bert Rolf, Eugene Wolfe, Everett Anderson and S. B. Kellogg.

Of the year's work Mr. Kelley, who has supervised the Hi-Y and younger boys' work, says: "One feature that has contributed to the success, outside of the splendid corps of leaders, was having a regular place to hold the weekly meetings. All meetings during the year were held in the basement of the First Methodist church. If we had had the contemplated new Y. M. C. A. building the results would have been far greater."

ELECT OFFICERS OF JUNIOR CLASS

Kenneth Montgomery Chosen President at Oxy for Coming Year

Kenneth Montgomery of Pasadena has been elected president of the junior class of Occident for the coming year. Mr. Montgomery graduated from Pasadena High in 1920 and stayed out a year before going to Occidental. He is a star track man, being a member of the ten man track team which invaded the east and won many laurels.

The other officers of the Class of '26 are: Lauretta Wheat, vice-president; Kathryn Lee, secretary; Bob Kleinpell, treasurer and Cummins Franklin, editor-in-chief of the La Encina, the college year book.

COLOR HARMONY, SPEAKER'S TOPIC

Artist Is to Deliver Lecture To Art Association at Sunday's Meet

"Color Harmony" will be the subject of McDonald Wright, Los Angeles artist, who is to speak Sunday afternoon before the Glendale Art association.

Mr. Wright will speak at 4 o'clock at the association meeting at the Public Library. Mrs. Roy Ballagh, president of the organization, announces that the meeting is open to all interested.

In addition to being an artist and student of art Mr. Wright is a teacher and lecturer and has spoken before the larger clubs in and around Los Angeles.

Graves of Former Service Men Here Will Be Decorated

The Glendale American Legion post and Women's Auxiliary are planning to decorate on Friday the 150 graves of ex-service men in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Flags with streamers and flowers will be placed on each of the graves.

Glendale people having relatives or friends, who were ex-service men, and who are buried in Forest Lawn, are asked to communicate with either Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer at Glendale 2423-W or with the Legion hall at Glendale 92.

AUXILIARY AIDS EX-ARMY NURSES

Are Patients at Sawtelle Hospital; Garments for Children Needed

Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer, as chairman of hospitalization of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion post, went to Sawtelle today to visit the ex-service nurses confined in the hospital there.

There are six ex-service nurses patients in the hospital at present, and several of them have children and are helping to support their mothers.

They are well enough to sew and Mrs. Hyer states that any Glendale people, having old clothes that could be made over for little girls, would be assisting these women greatly by giving it to her to take to Sawtelle.

MUSIC TEACHERS ELECT OFFICERS

Wesley Kuhnle Is Chairman, Alberta Green Chosen Secretary of Club

Wesley Kuhnle was chosen chairman, and Alberta Green, secretary, at the meeting last night of the Teachers' Roundtable of the Glendale Music club at the home of Mrs. Lillian Smits at 231 Milford street.

Following the election the company listened to an instructive talk by Miss Lucile Corbett on "The Use of Story Telling in Teaching."

TEACHERS AGAIN ELECT MRS. RYAN CLUB PRESIDENT

Miss Elsa Brenneman Named Delegate to National Education Meeting

Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan was re-elected president of the City Teachers' club at the annual meeting held Tuesday afternoon at Wilson avenue school, which marked the closing of a year of unusual activity under her administration, and Mrs. Ryan was enthusiastically greeted by her club members upon her re-election.

Other officers elected for the next year are Charles E. Merrill, first vice-president; Miss Bertha I. Barry, second vice-president; Mrs. Carrie S. MacLennan, recording secretary; Miss Daisy Kearne, corresponding secretary; J. F. McMaster, treasurer.

Delegate Selected

Miss Elsa Brenneman, supervisor of music in the city schools, was elected a delegate to represent the club at the convention of the National Educational Association that will be held in Washington, D. C. in July.

Superintendent R. D. White gave a report of the state convention of the California Teachers' association, held recently in Sacramento, and a report was given by Miss Bertha Barry, of the meeting of the southern section of the organization, which she attended recently in Los Angeles.

To Stage Cantata

Reports were made by chairmen of all standing committees.

The Choral club, directed by Miss Brenneman, rendered "Morning Song" (Paul Bliss), a selection from the cantata "Pan on a Summer's Day" which is to be presented by the Choral club on the night of June 10, in the auditorium of Glendale Avenue school.

GLENDALE WOMAN ORATOR HONORED

Miss Helen Sherwood Wins Third In Contest as Student of Oxy

Miss Helen Sherwood of Glendale, Occidental's representative in the women's oratorical contest staged at the University of California, Southern Branch, in Los Angeles, won third prize. Miss Helen Jackson of S. B. U. C. won the annual affair. Miss Minnie of La Verne college took second. Miss Sherwood has shown exceptional talent in oratory this year.

ALL NATIONS AT REBEKAH CLUB'S LODGE FESTIVAL

Brilliant Affair Sponsored By Club Proves Most Successful Event

The brilliant "Festival of Nations," presented last night by the Rebekah Afternoon club of the Glendale Carnation Rebekah lodge, in the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway, proved to be a most enjoyable and successful affair.

The various booths were gaily decorated, and the gypsies in riotous colors greeted one on every hand among the brightly decorated tables and booths. All the displays were artistically arranged, and many tempting things were offered the host of Glendalians who patronized the affair.

Every conceivable kind of booth was in evidence and presided over by members brilliantly costumed and representing all nations.

Special Numbers

Perhaps the most enjoyable part of the evening's program were the specialty features presented by "Rhubarb Vaselino," the sheik, Daniel Hall; "Larry Louder," H. W. Groutage; "Uncle Sam," Henry Hollenbeck; "Jack Tar," Carl W. Schwitters; "Boy in Khaki," W. U. Ertel.

Dinner was served during the early part of the evening, and dancing was enjoyed from 8 till 11:30 o'clock. The music for the dancing was furnished by the Blue Moon Syncopators, of which Leslie Tronsier is manager.

Mrs. Viola Ertel, president of the club, and her general chairman, Mrs. Adelaide Meyers, were assisted by the following committees:

Fortune telling booth, Mrs. Clara Fry, as Egyptian palmist, and Mrs. Rosella Strother, Hindu palmist. Jitney jugglers, Mrs. Viola Ertel and Mrs. Minnie Hartley. Hot dogs, Mrs. Flora Hollenbeck, A. Hartley, Charles Pease. Floor committee, Mesdames Lucille Siemson, Vanona Border, Loretta Schwitters and Miss Guila Darling. Mrs. Marjorie Pease, "Columbia," at the United States booth; Mrs. Jessie Billingsley, France; Mrs. Sadie Bronnenberg, Britannia. Candy booth, Mrs. B. Smith and Mrs. Margaret LaBrum. Wheel of fortune, Mrs. Evelyn Hall and Mrs. Mamie Rich. Tiajuana, Mrs. Evelyn Hall, Jerome Walker and Ernest Rich. Fish pond, Miss May Lyon and Mrs. Frances Shadbolt.

At this time Mrs. Ertel, Mrs. Myers and Mrs. C. W. Schwitters wish to thank the merchants who assisted in making the affair a success, as well as all members of the various committees and Glendalians who patronized the affair.

All the proceeds of the affair have not been turned in as yet, and an exact report cannot be given at this time. However, a goodly sum was realized.

Service Security and Stability

In Glendale, as in other communities where it has branches, the Security Bank is helping growth, progressing with the community, and making available LOCALLY, the complete service of a great metropolitan bank.

Besides this, the Bank is here, as elsewhere in Southern California, known for the stability and conservatism of its banking methods.

HEALTH BETTER IN CITIES

Contrary to general belief, health conditions are better in the cities than in the countrysides. While country air is admittedly better than city air, city sanitation is better than country sanitation—and sanitation is more vital to health than air, according to the Rockefeller Foundation, which in 1923 spent $8,431,075 in public health and medical education. Most of this money was spent in the rural districts, because it has been learned by the foundation that there is where the poorest sanitation and the greatest health ignorance exist.

The world war proved that the soldier from the city or town was healthier and had greater immunity against disease than his country buddy. This is food for thought and strikes to the vitals of modern civilization, which is drawing on the countrysides to swell its ever-growing cities. The country boy makes good in the city. He brings a fresh viewpoint and a clean outlook. He is unspoiled in the ways of the world.

But, sad to relate, he has not the stamina of his city brother. Recognizing that this curious condition exists, the Rockefeller Foundation is endeavoring to build up a country stock that will be sounder in health and hence offer greater stamina in the young men it sends to counteract the physically, mentally and morally debilitating influences that are ever at work in the large centers of population.

The country lad is the hope of the world. As the cities of this and other countries grow greater and greater, they must come to rely more and more on the countrysides to furnish them with new, strong stock. Civilization cannot continue if the well-springs of human cleanness and vitality, the great country sections, become contaminated before they pour their treasure into the vast and murky reservoirs of the cities. The country must be made more wholesome and the cities are beginning to realize that they must take the lead. It is their job.

PERSISTENT SALESMAN

The business world responds to the enterprise of the persistent salesman. It is the man who is right on the job regularly, two or three times a week, who lands the orders. Maybe he is new at the game and gets no business his first few calls. But, sooner or later, there is an order lying around, waiting for the regular man, which the new fellow gets by his persistency.

So with advertising, which is just another form of salesmanship. Regular and frequent insertions in your community's best newspaper have the same effect on the buyer as the persistent salesman—and at a fraction of the cost of sending out personal representatives.

You may have a fine display in your store window, but it is a proven fact that the average person will concentrate on a newspaper ad. telling of your goods far more readily than he will pause to look in your windows. The newspaper is perused in moments of leisure, whereas shop windows are usually passed by when one is in a hurry. The successful merchant finds that newspaper advertising is absolutely necessary to back up his window displays.

The newspaper advertisement is a personal salesman entering every home—and, think of this, never refused admittance and turned from the door. Just as the courteous salesman who calls over and over again eventually gains permanent customers, so does the well-groomed, well-mannered ad. sooner or later make buyers out of readers.

"YOU CAN'T BEAT SIX PER CENT"

A big eastern financier is said to have had for his motto, "You can't beat six per cent." During a life time in which he accumulated millions he found it the wiser plan to make investments that promised small but safe returns rather than taking a chance in a doubtful deal. His idea was that though a man wins today, he may lose tomorrow, and six per cent is the best average he can hope for.

In any deal in which there is the element of doubt, one in a thousand is lucky, the others are stung. A woman criticized her husband for playing poker for money. He asked her about the $500 she had invested in oil units hoping for fabulous returns and had lost. Buying stocks in which the payment of a designated rate of interest is not certain is gambling just as surely as poker is gambling.

Some defend gambling by saying, "Every business deal is a gamble." It is true that there is always the element of chance in business, but this might be termed legitimate gambling. If no one took a chance there would be no progress in the world. Life itself is more or less of a gamble.

Remember the Wall street man's motto when investing your money. You can't beat the game every time.

WORK AND RECREATION

There is a good deal said, especially during the summer months, about the need of vacations. Every worker should have a change of some kind during the year. Hard work is better than medicine, yet it is beneficial for the worker to get away for a little while if only to get a chance to examine himself, his aims and his ambitions from a different point of view. Such a retrospection is helpful both to him and to his work.

One who does the same tasks day after day, year after year, without setting aside a litle time for recreation finally finds himself in a rut and so badly mired he can scarcely extricate himself. He finds that a broad viewpoint is denied him and that his very ambition has proved his undoing. Too close application to business may be disastrous, but, between working too hard and doing nothing, choose the former.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

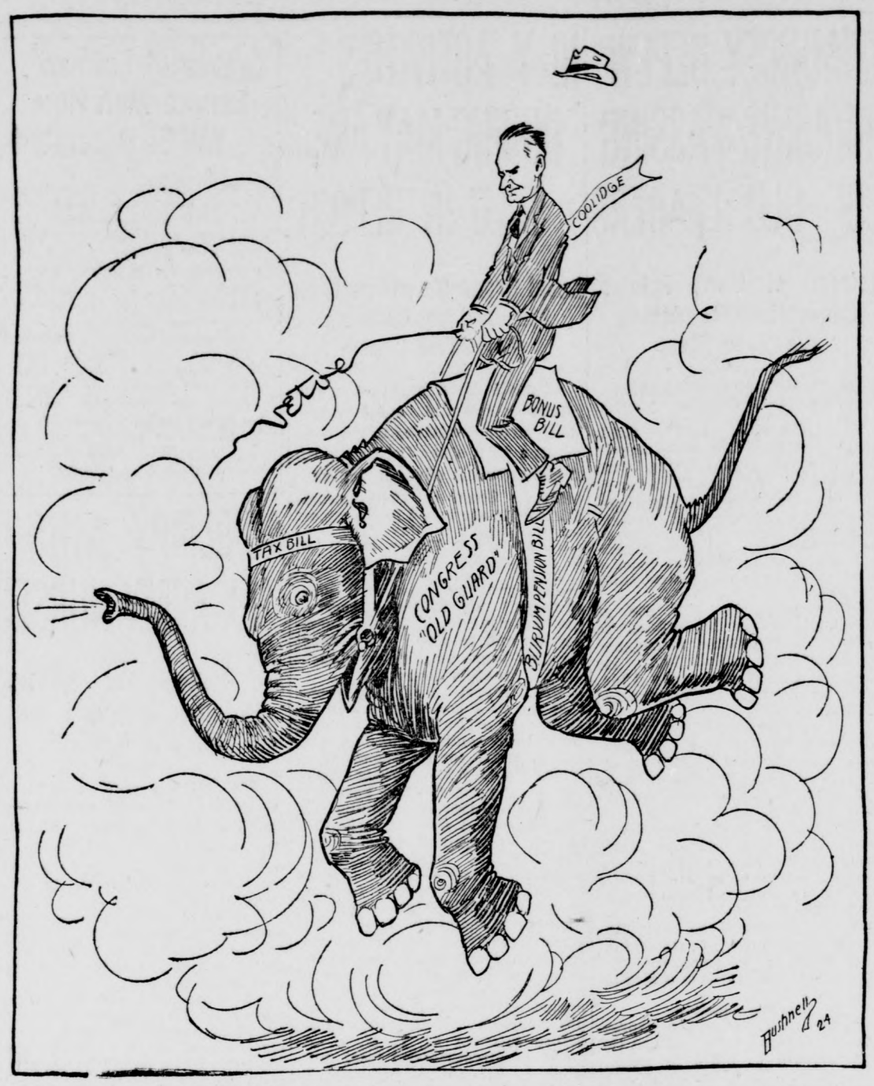
There are so many "days" and "weeks" set apart to celebrate or to advertise this or that, that the custom has become a joke. But if there is one week that should have a place on the calendar it is "clean-up week." Properly celebrated it brings big returns. It pays the individual property owner and it pays the community.

To clean the vacant weed-grown lots, to paint the house, to freshen up the garage, to repair the roof, replace broken and cracked cement and otherwise tidy up the premises is well worth-while.

Mayor Robinson has designated the first week in June as clean-up week in Glendale. Glendale is known as a clean city and every citizen should lend his co-operation to make it spick and span.

Are you ever dissatisfied with your job? Does it look as if the other fellow had an easier time? Distance often lends enchantment to the job as well as to the view. Away off in Denmark a job on a chicken ranch in California looked good to Prince Eric. Chicken ranchers are skeptical as to whether he will enjoy his work as much as he anticipated.

A BIT OF PRE-CONVENTION ROUGH RIDING



The Political Party a Vicious Institution

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Unfortunately, we cannot think freely. Each of our minds is impaired by tradition. The trouble is that we begin thinking by taking for granted a whole lot of things that are not true at all.

Most people in considering the question of politics accept as a matter of course the postulate that "political parties are necessary—you cannot run the government without them." I find it as difficult to talk politics with the average person as to talk religion. They all begin by assuming a lot of nonsense that we accept simply because it has been lying around for a thousand years or so, and people have been accepting it as true.

The political party is not necessary.

Not only so, but the political party is essentially both a foolish and an evil institution.

It is foolish because it is an endeavor to run government, which is every man's business, and the most important business in the world, not upon the basis of science or skill or intelligence or justice, but upon the principle of a cock fight.

The political party is the last runt in the litter to which the old sow idea, Competition, has given birth.

We believe in it because for years we have been trained to believe in its mother.

Some day, when the present generation is all dead and gone, and we have bred a crop of brains that know how to think straighter, we shall see the fallacy of competition among human beings, and learn that progress, profit and happiness can only be attained through co-operation.

The intelligent bystander can easily see that the root of all the Teapot Dome scandal and the U. S. Veteran Bureau scandal, and the other scandals that are rendering foetid the national atmosphere, is the political party.

The reason is that a political party exists practically for one purpose, namely: to get certain men into office.

I say practically, because while parties may begin with a considerable fanfare of principles, eventually the lines of moral and even mental demarkation are rubbed out, and the whole issue becomes "Do you want John Smith or Jim Brown for your Congressman?"

Therefore the political party is essentially based upon the graft idea. Everything in its operation tends to promote the conviction that a political office is a personal privilege and not a public trust.

The kind of man that naturally gets into a position of leadership in a political party is most unlovely.

The party is the agency through which crooked capital gets in to bribe the government.

The party is the handy means by which unscrupulous labor leaders drive legislatures into folly.

In fact, the party is a very handy burglar's jimmy for the crook and the blatherskite to break into the house of national government.

I have read carefully many books on party government; I have noticed party government in its actual workings; and I am familiar with the history of it. My honest conclusion is that the idea that it is necessary is one of those strong delusions which becloud the intelligence of the human race.

The founders of this republic did not contemplate government by party; the Constitution made no provision for any such thing. It has grown up. But everything that grows is not therefore wholesome. Weeds grow, and poison ivy. Cancers grow. There is a noxious growth as well as wholesome growth.

OBSERVE FOREST RULES
(From Pasadena Star-News)

Vigilant forestry authorities are bringing into justice courts, in Pasadena and elsewhere, violators of laws and rules governing the carrying of firearms in forest reserves, picking yuccas and other wild flowers; and catching more fish than the law permits, or fishing without license. Vigilance is maintained, too, against carelessness with fire.

These restrictions and vigilances are well justified. It is true that offenders are comparatively few. But the forest reserves must be safeguarded against this reckless minority among those who visit the mountains and canyons. Laws, regulations and restrictions must be enforced with rigidity, because it is not safe to attempt to take any middle ground. One little bit of carelessness with fire might denude the whole Pasadena watershed. And if fish and flowers are not protected against vandal hands, soon they would be exterminated. Carrying fire-arms in the forest reserves, unless by responsible hunters during the legal hunting season, is a dangerous offense also. Indiscriminate shooting might injure or kill campers or hikers, or might start fires.

AMERICAN MACHINERY
(From Long Beach Press)

Like a tale of romance is the recital of conquests of American inventive geniuses and of American manufacturers of agricultural implements. To more than one hundred different countries, colonies and islands throughout the world, American farm machinery and implements go. More than $50,000,000 worth of agricultural machinery and appliances were sold abroad by American manufacturers last year. To every part of the habitable world the products of American farm-implement manufactories go. It is pointed out that American machines are digging potatoes in France, Argentina, Australia, India, Japan, South Africa, Armenia and Kurdistan. American hay rakes and tedders are at work in Latvia, Ukraine, Guatemala, Bolivia, Egypt and Palestine. American incubating machines are hatching chicks in Czecho-Slovakia, Russia, Barbardoes, Colombia, Java, and Hejaz. Drinkers of coffee in Hong Kong, Jamaica, China, Belgium, Kwangtung and the Far Eastern Republics are using cream produced by American cream separators.

The United States produces by far more agricultural implements than any other country. America is the world's chief source of supply of the latest devices for making farming easier, for expediting farm work and for cutting down overhead expense in farming.

JAPANESE ALLIANCE
(From Santa Ana Register)

Now there is talk of an alliance between Japan and France. Such an alliance is sought by Japan for additional safeguard in case that country were threatened by a German-Russian combination. The enemy then could be attacked at both ends. Incidentally the proposed alliance would probably be another back-handed slap at Great Britain by France, and indirect notice to the United States that France has to be reckoned with in the Pacific.

It is a natural effort on the part of France, but it is discouraging to many countries and to many people of every country who are more interested in building up international tolerance and good will than in building military alliances. Every coalition of that kind invites another coalition against it, spoils the existing balance among nations and inspires fear, uncertainty and bad feeling.

The practical results may not amount to much as far as the Pacific is concerned, because France has but a slight hold and small interests there. The advantages sought are largely sentimental and political. But even that may be mischievous. As for Japan, the benefit of cancelling her alliance with Great Britain, at the Washington arms conference, is half lost if she merely swings over to France.

There ought to be some way of stopping all that sort of thing, in favor of general square dealing among nations.

Worth While Verse

Row gently here,
My gondolier,
So softly wake the tide,
That not an ear,
On earth may hear,
But hers to whom we glide.
Had Heaven but tongues to speak, as well
As starry eyes to see,
Oh, think what tales 'twould have to tell
Of wandering youths like me!

Now rest thee here,
My gondolier,
Hush, hush, for up I go,
To climb yon light
Balcony's height,
While you keep'st watch below.
Ah; did we take for Heaven above
But half such pains as we
Take, day and night, for woman's love,
What angels we should be!

—Thomas Moore.

The People —of— Anytown

Character Sketches

THE PEOPLE OF ANYTOWN

When I was a lad back in my home town, Anytown, Anna Thomas was our one business woman. About the only work open to girls those days was teaching school and sewing. Mrs. James was Anytown's dressmaker but she did her work at home and we never thought of her as a business woman. But Anna Thomas owned the only millinery store in Anytown.

Anna was tall and slender and walked with a long stride. She was near-sighted and wore gold-rimmed nose glasses attached to a chain which was anchored by means of a gold hair pin in her mass of auburn hair which was always dressed in the prevailing mode. Her clothes and hats were just a little more daring than the other women of Anytown were accustomed to wear. But Anna went to the city twice a year to buy her stock and so she knew exactly what was what in the world of fashion. The Anytown women were always interested in the reports Anna brought back from the city even though they adopted the styles only in a very modified form.

Our milliner was business-like and capable and a hard worker. Bright and early every morning she was in her little shop sweeping and dusting and putting things in order. She was the right type for a small-town business woman, friendly with old and young, rich and poor. She was popular in the social life of Anytown and neither looked down or up on any or acknowledged any superiors. She did her work well, lived amicably with her neighbors, cared for an invalid mother and educated a younger sister.

Women didn't buy so many hats those days. They had one "winter" hat and one "summer" hat and they wore them several seasons, occasionally refurbishing them with a bunch of violets or a fresh bow of ribbon. It was surprising that Anna could make a living in the millinery business in so small a town as Anytown but she did very well.

If a woman preferred to buy a "frame" and a few ornaments and trim her own hat Anna treated her with as much courtesy as she did Mrs. Caswell who bought a new hat outright every alternate season.

Some of our women thought Anna a little forward in the styles she adopted and some said she wore her glasses just for looks but on the whole she was well liked and highly respected. And when Anna's mother died and her sister graduated from college we learned that Anna's life had not been without romance. She married and went to the city to live as soon as she was free from the care of those dependent upon her.

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The Story So Far:

Mrs. Pitman, who tells the story, ran away from home to marry, and was never reconciled to her old Pittsburgh family, although she returned to her home town to live after she became a widow. She kept boarders in what was then lower Allegheny, where, because there were floods every year, rents were cheap. One March there was an unusually high flood. Miss Jennie Brice, as she was known on the stage, was having an unusually quarrelsome time with her husband, Mr. Ladley. Mrs. Pitman overheard them talking with a man, and Miss Brice said, "That's all very well, but what about that prying she-devil that runs the house?" That night the water rose high, and in the middle of the night another boarder, Mr. Reynolds woke Mrs. Pitman to say somebody had just rowed away in the boat she had tied to the stairs in the lower hall.

Today's Installment

III—THE CUT ROPE

I got up, being already fully dressed, and taking the candle, we went to the staircase. I noticed that it was a minute or so after two o'clock as we left the room. The boat was gone, not untied, but cut loose. The end of the rope was still fastened to the stair-rail. I sat down on the stairs and looked at Mr. Reynolds.

"It's gone!" I said. "If the house catches fire, we'll have to drown."

"It's rather curious, when you consider it." We spoke softly, not to disturb the Ladleys. "I've been awake, and I heard no boat come in. And yet, if no one came in a boat, and came from the street, they would have had to swim in."

I felt queer and creepy. The street door was open, of course, and the lights going beyond. It gave me a strange feeling to sit there in the darkness on the stairs, with the arch of the front door like the entrance to a cavern, and see now and then a chunk of ice slide into view, turn around in the eddy, and pass on. It was bitter cold, too, and the wind was rising.

"I'll go through the house," said Mr. Reynolds. "There's likely nothing worse the matter than some drunken mill-hand on a vacation while the mills are under water. But I'd better look."

He left me, and I sat there in the darkness. I had a presentiment of something wrong, but I tried to think it was only discomfort and the cold. The water, driven in by the wind, swirled at my feet. And something dark floated in and lodged on the step below. I reached down and touched it. It was a dead kitten. I had never known a dead cat to bring me anything but bad luck, and here was one washed in at my very feet.

Mr. Reynolds came back soon and reported the house quiet and in order.

"But I found Peter shut up in one of the third-floor rooms," he said. "Did you put him there?"

I had not, and said so; but as the dog went everywhere, and the door might have blown shut, we did not attach much importance to that at the time.

Well, the skiff was gone, and there was no use worrying about it until morning. I went back to the sofa to keep warm, but I left my candle lighted and my door open. I did not sleep: the dead cat was on my mind, and, as if it were not bad enough to have it washed in at my feet, about four in the morning Peter, prowling uneasily, discovered it and brought it in and put it on my couch, wet and stiff, poor little thing!

I looked at the clock. It was a quarter after four, and, except for the occasional crunch of one ice-cake hitting another in the yard, everything was quiet. And then I heard the stealthy sound of oars in the lower hall.

I am not a brave woman. I lay there, hoping Mr. Reynolds would hear and open his door. But he was sleeping soundly. Peter snarled and ran out into the hall, and the next moment I heard Mr. Ladley speaking. "Down, Peter," he said. "Down. Go and lie down."

I took my candle and went out into the hall. Mr. Ladley was stooping over the boat, trying to tie it to the staircase. The rope was short, having been cut, and he was having trouble. Perhaps it was the candle-light, but he looked ghost-white and haggard.

"I borrowed your boat, Mrs. Pitman," he said, civilly enough. "Mrs. Ladley was not well, and I—I went to the drug store."

"You've been more than two hours going to the drug store," I said.

He muttered something about not finding any open at first, and went into his room. He closed and locked the door behind him, and although Peter whined and scratched, he did not let him in.

He looked so agitated that I thought I had been harsh, and that perhaps she was really ill. I knocked at the door and asked if I could do anything. But he only called "No" curtly through the door, and asked me to take that infernal dog away.

I went back to bed and tried to sleep, for the water had dropped an inch or so on the stairs and I knew the danger was over. Peter came, shivering, at dawn, and got on the sofa with me. I put an end of the quilt over him, and he stopped shivering after a time and went to sleep.

The dog was company. I lay there, wide awake, thinking about Mr. Pitman's death, and how I had come, by degrees, to be keeping a cheap boarding-house in the flood district, and to having to take impudence from everybody who chose to rent a room from me, and to being called a she-devil. From that I got to thinking again about the Ladleys, and how she had said he was a fiend, and to doubting about his having gone out for medicine for her. I dozed off again at daylight, and being worn out, I slept heavily.

At seven o'clock Mr. Reynolds came to the door, dressed for the store. He was a tall man of about fifty, neat and orderly in his habits, and he always remembered that I had seen better days, and treated me as a lady.

"Never mind about breakfast for me this morning, Mrs. Pitman," he said. "I'll get a cup of coffee at the other end of the bridge. I'll take the boat and send it back with Terry."

He turned and went along the hall and down to the boat. I heard him push off from the stairs with an oar and row out into the street. Peter followed him to the stairs.

At a quarter after seven Mr. Ladley came out and called to me: "Just bring in a cup of coffee and some toast," he said. "Enough for one."

YOUTH TELLS WHY HE TURNED THIEF

Love of Girl, His Father's Failure, and Confusion Blamed for Crime

OAKLAND, May 28.—Three things caused 22-year-old Robert J. Tasker, scion of a wealthy Portland, Ore., family, to become Oakland's spectacular "coffee bandit," he said today in the city jail.

First was the beautiful young Miss Katherine Orr, his boyhood playmate and fiancee. Second was failure of his father in business with a loss of $2,500,000 and a desire to aid his father. Third was the strange confusion of economic philosophies absorbed in the undirected study when he sought to educate himself.

Tasker was overpowered when he attempted robbery of a dance hall cashier. He was armed with a broken and unloaded revolver. In three weeks here he robbed half a dozen cafes and gained the name of "coffee bandit" because he always drank coffee and ate pastry in the place he intended to rob.

Various plants in the South Sea Islands and islands of the Caribbean Sea, are used for soap substitutes.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN COURT OF HONOR

Award Badges of Rank at City Hall Thursday Night Meeting

Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills council are to hold a court of honor Thursday night at the City Hall, where badges of rank will be awarded. The boys who are to be honored are to meet at the hall at 7 o'clock for a final test.

At 8 o'clock the court will open under the direction of Captain Wattles. Later a district committee meeting will be held, with Lyman Clark, chairman, presiding.

The Boy Scouts are to participate Friday in the Memorial Day parade. They are asked to meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in front of the Elks' clubhouse on East Colorado street.

COOLIDGE PLANS NEW JAP TREATY

Phrasing of Immigrant Law Must Be Changed, Says Political Writer

matter so far as the absolute right of a nation to regulate who shall enter and who shall not enter territory, the United States itself has applied in international discussions that principle that a domestic question may have international aspects, and that no nation which respects the good will of another nation deliberately insists on the exercise of domestic rights when there is an alternative available which does not offend another nation.

Perhaps the most striking instance of this principle was in the recent negotiations between the United States and Mexico. The new Mexican constitution contained a provision which practically confiscated the property of foreigners. The sovereign right of Mexico to make her own constitution without interference from the outside was conceded, but the United States argued that, in the interests of amity, the literal rights of Mexico should not be insisted upon. Finally a treaty had to be negotiated, and it has since been ratified by both countries, whereby a commission adjusts the differences arising out of the application of Mexico's constitution.

Need Jap Co-operation

The Japanese feel the same way about the domestic phases of immigration. They do not argue against America's rights in the matter, but insist that the international aspects should be a subject for negotiation between the two governments. On the face of it, the United States would have nothing to give in a treaty negotiation except less objectionable phrases; but, on the other hand, the United States will find it necessary to ask for much in return, namely Japanese co-operation in enforcing the exclusion. Under the gentlemen's agreement, Japan has really helped to keep Japanese out of America. Now no such responsibility exists, as the agreement has been abrogated. All the machinery of enforcement must rest with America. It is this which the United States can seek in a treaty negotiation. The executive branch of the government here is committed also to a policy of friendship with Japan. So long as the treaty method remains as a possible solution, the department of state is obviously compelled to resort to it. Though to be sure in the immediate future the chances of ratification would be slight. In time a changed public opinion and a desire to avert an ultimate clash with Japan may bring ratification by the American Senate. For it is not yet realized in Congress how seriously the affront to Japan will react on the whole subject of relations with the far east. Some day the peace advocates who have been working for an amicable solution of the controversy with Japan, particularly the churches, will have the ear of the Senate, and a change may then be expected. For, as the president says, Japanese exclusion is not the issue, but the method of its adoption—a discriminatory piece of legislation aimed at a single nation.

PICK FILM STAR AS BEAUTY TYPE

Helene Chadwick Selected as Ideal American Blonde By Art Students

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.

HOLLYWOOD, May 28.—Helene Chadwick, popular movie star, has been selected from among the foremost beauties of the country as the ideal type of American blondes.

Students of the Gotham Art Institute in New York after considering the leading blonde beauties of the country including actresses, artist models, society women and winners of different beauty contests, voted Miss Chaddick the ideal type.

Artist's Model

The verdict of the students is further substantiated by the fact that Miss Chadwick, prior to her movie career, posed for the leading artists in the United States, her face having been reproduced on the covers of several hundred magazines.

Recently a bronze bust of Miss Chadwick by John Roy Hilstead attracted considerable interest at the exhibition of Painters and Sculptors of Southern California at the Museum of History, Science and Art in this city.

Warn Drivers Not To Drape Flag on Autos In Parade

The N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps of Glendale, has sent out a request that those driving cars in the Memorial Day parade Friday, do not drape flags over the back, hood or top of the car, as in doing so they are breaking a California state law. If flags are used, they should fly from a perpendicular staff, it is pointed out.

Shrines of Freedom

He will sail for Montreal on the steamer Melita about August 10, arriving in America about the seventeenth. Mr. Cole explains that the trip is of an educational nature with visits at what are called the "Shrines of Freedom." These include the principal places connected with the beginning of the Reformation.

Floyd Mercer, associate pastor, will be in charge of the services at the Central Christian church during Rev. Cole's absence, and various Southern California ministers will fill the pulpit.

OFFICIALS OPEN HIGHWAY BRIDGE

State, County and City Men Dedicate New Structure Over Pacoima Wash

State, county and Los Angeles officials assembled with San Fernando and other city representatives of the valley at the new $45,000 bridge over the Pacoima wash on the Mulholland state highway, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, when elaborate dedicatory exercises were held.

California was represented by J. Edwards, a member of the state highway committee. Los Angeles county was represented by Henry W. Wright, county supervisor. Boyle Workman, president of the City Council, and acting mayor of Los Angeles in the absence of Mayor George E. Cryer, represented the city.

Local Men Attend

Glendale was represented at the gathering by Secretary Eugene F. Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce and L. H. Wilson and George B. Karr, directors of the organization.

Following the dedication, a banquet was served to the visitors in Memory Gardens, opposite the famous San Fernando mission. These gardens were dedicated to Los Angeles some time ago by L. C. Brand of Glendale, as a park, in memory of the historic scenes enacted in the vicinity.

Better Highways

There, under the shade of the beautiful old pepper trees, gay illumination transforming the scene to fairyland, a number of addresses were made, following the banquet. Among those to speak was Ralph Criswell, last year president of the Los Angeles City Council.

The keynote of all the talks was more bridges and better highways for California, the point being stressed that a civilization becomes great in proportion as it builds lines of communication.

Charge Police Stage Laurel Canyon Orgies

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—Sensational charges that Los Angeles policemen have been engaging in wild orgies in Laurel canyon homes, including residences of motion picture stars, were being investigated today by Chief of Police Vollmer.

Bradley J. Smollen, Laurel canyon property owner, reported to Chief Vollmer that John R. Smollen, 65, and Russell Smollen, 22, were brutally beaten by policemen during the progress of an all night party Sunday.

the standards of advertising. He stressed the appropriateness of meeting here, when the state association is in session at Fresno.

Charles B. Alexander, advertising manager of the South Pasadena Record, outlined some of the advantages of round-table discussion, showing the light it sheds on local problems. Joe Marshall, chairman of the round-table department and educational committee of the Pasadena club, gave a clear idea of how advertising that appears in the local papers is dissected and its problems analyzed. Clark Bogardus, automobile advertising man of the Pasadena Star-News, talked briefly, and there followed short talks by A. C. Moore, former newspaper publisher of Wisconsin and Iowa, now a resident of Glendale; A. T. Cowan, publisher and proprietor of The Glendale Evening News; Robert H. Cowan, of The Glendale Evening News advertising department; T. W. Watson, of the Glendale Daily Press; and H. N. Fowler, founder and resident of Verdugo City.

Officers Elected

Temporary officers of the Glendale chapter of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World were then elected, as follows: Ed. N. Radke, chairman; Elmer B. Blake, secretary; William A. McCormick, treasurer. It was decided to hold another meeting of the club Tuesday night, June 10.

The following membership committee was named: Robert H. Cowan, W. F. Taylor and George H. Thomas.

The following nominating committee was named: W. H. Hooper, A. C. Moore, B. P. Fisher, H. W. McGuire and E. P. Beck.

Following is the list of the forty members who pledged themselves last night:

and eight states, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon, South Carolina, Utah and Washington, have lower rates in 1923. The highest 1923 death rate (20.3 per 1000 population) is shown for cities of Mississippi, and the lowest (6.5) for the rural districts of Idaho.

Infant mortality rates for 1923 were generally higher than those for 1922, as seventeen of the twenty-seven states show higher rates in 1923. The highest 1923 infant mortality rate (117) appeares for cities of South Carolina, and the lowest (51) for the rural districts of Utah and the cities of Washington. Infant mortality rates were available for both years for forty-five cities of 100,000 population or more in 1920. For twenty-five of these cities the 1923 infant mortality rates were lower than those of the previous year. The highest 1923 rate (110) was for Richmond, Va., and the lowest (48) for Spokane, Wash.

MELLON TO GIVE TAX BILL REPORT

Recommendations to Go to President Tonight, Is Expected to Pass

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's report on the tax bill will be handed to President Coolidge tonight, it was announced at the treasury department today.

In advance of the announcement of the president's action on the bill, Mellon declined to discuss his recommendations. It is understood, however, that Mellon holds the bill to be some improvement over the present revenue bill and will not recommend a veto.

Holding The Stage
Need Running Mate
Klan Issue Strong
Talking It Over

By Gil A. Cowan

President Calvin C. Coolidge and William Gibbs McAdoo are holding the stage for the present as the probable nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties at their national conventions.

Both claim sufficient delegates to insure their success, but there always is apt to be a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip.

For instance, there is every indication that the Republican platform will not be one of the president's making. His position already is nearly untenable, as far as his relations with Congress is concerned.

Also, it will be advisable, if not absolutely necessary, for the president to have a running mate selected from the more or less progressive radical group. That will not set well with the "down east" man, methinks.

Mr. McAdoo also has problems to meet at the convention. One is the Ku Klux Klan issue. The Kluxers are very strong in the Democratic ranks for some reason. Perhaps because they are both synonymous to the south.

Tammany Hall with its Irish leaders and Jewish voters are not going to permit anything unsavory in "that" convention in New York. And that's just about what the Democratic national convention amounts to.

If Mr. McAdoo knows how to get them to a banquet table on a Friday night to eat Virginia baked ham he will win hands down.

That is his problem.

The klan appears to be chameleon coated in the matter of political alignment. Read what the Milwaukee Journal has to say editorially:

"Months ago it was reported that the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana was to be used in the interest of the Republican party. The other day that prediction came true when klan members entered the Republican primary and nominated Edward Jackson, the klan candidate for governor. Now we read that Walter Bossert, the klan boss of Indianapolis, journeyed to Washington and was closeted with Senator Watson. Mr. Watson happens to be on the committee which is investigating the election of Senator Mayfield of Texas, who, it is charged, owes his place to klan support. That, of course, may be merely a "coincidence." The significant thing is that Bossert announces there will be no opposition from him to Watson's program in Indiana.

"The Indiana Republican plague now reaches all the way from Indianapolis to Atlanta, Ga., where ex-Governor McCray is to be quartered for the next ten years. Dishonor came to the state at the end of a long period of boss-ridden politics. The klan was to be the knight in shining armor to clean out all the rottenness, so the good farmers who parted with their initiation fees were told. Now the klan delivers to the bosses. Buncoed again."

CLAIM BURNS GOT FILES ON MEXICO

Revolutionary Data Taken From Bureau Office, Is Wheeler's Charge

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Charges that valuable confidential reports on alleged Mexican revolutionary activities were taken from the files of the department of justice by William J. Burns when he resigned as chief of the bureau of investigation, were made before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee today.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, declared that committee attaches, after a thorough search of the files could not find the reports, made to the department in February, 1924, by special agents.

OAKLAND AGENCY CHANGES OWNERS

John Neuschaefer Takes Over Glendale Dealership From T. E. Ricketts

The Glendale agency for Oakland motor cars, formerly held by Thomas E. Ricketts at 420 East Colorado boulevard, has been taken over by John Neuschaefer, formerly sales manager for Mr. Ricketts. Mr. Neuschaefer will maintain the sales and service rooms at the same location, he announces.

Mr. Neuschaefer is not unknown to Oakland owners of Glendale and surrounding territory. He became connected with Mr. Ricketts last September, after driving from Providence, R. I., in an Oakland Six to Glendale.

Outlines Policies

In Providence he was connected with the Oakland Sales company of that city, in the capacity of sales manager.

The same policies inaugurated by Mr. Ricketts in the sale and service of Oakland cars will be maintained by Mr. Neuschaefer. The new owner asks all Oakland owners to drop in at the agency office and become acquainted, or drive their car in the shop for a thorough inspection.

Mr. Ricketts has not announced his plans for the future as yet.

INSURANCE FIRM HUNTS GLENDALE

Omaha Concern Has to Check Back Through Agency To Locate City

"Where is Glendale?"

The residents of this city are inclined to believe that Glendale must be pretty widely known, because of its record growth and its much-advertised prosperity, but every now and then one hears of a case of some one wanting to know where Glendale is. Carroll L. Montgomery, formerly of Omaha and now residing at 1151 North Maryland avenue, cites an interesting example of such ignorance.

Mr. Montgomery first came to California fifteen years ago, on a vacation trip, and was so pleased with the "small town" of Glendale, as he then found it, that he determined to make his home here when he retired from his law business in Omaha.

He did not return to California until December of last year, and, although he found Glendale far different from the small town of 1909, he and his wife decided that it was still the most attractive residential city in southern California, and chose it as the ideal place to make their home.

Omaha's Quandary

And this leads up to the original query, "Where is Glendale?" A week ago Friday Mr. Montgomery was struck by a Pacific Electric train at the Stocker street station and received severe bruises and contusions. Having an accident insurance policy with a large Omaha firm, he filed claims for damages with them.

Yesterday he received a letter from the manager of the casualty department, saying that the claim had been referred to the San Francisco office, and that it might possibly be referred to the Los Angeles office, as they were unable to determine TO WHICH OF THOSE CITIES GLENDALE WAS THE CLOSEST!

Mr. Montgomery said with a smile, "They at least knew it was in California. I suppose they gathered that much from my letter."

THRONGS ATTEND BRIDGE OPENING

Valley Towns Represented; Ceremony, Basket Dinner at Old Mission

SAN FERNANDO, May 28.—Large numbers of people gathered here yesterday afternoon to commemorate the opening of the new bridge over Pacoima wash at Mulholland street. There followed a basket dinner at Brand park, by the old Mission. Representatives from scores of civic organizations of the valley towns were present, and among the prominent speakers were John Steven McGroarty, Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann and Fred Sherer. Representatives were present from the Los Angeles engineering department.

A number of Shriners from Van Nuys and vicinity attended the spring ceremonial of the Mystic order, held in the arena of the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, last night. George W. Bunton and L. S. Granger were among those present.

Box Supper Planned By Methodist Church

An old-time Box Supper will be enjoyed by the congregation of the Broadway Methodist church, and their friends, Thursday night at 7 o'clock. Every woman is expected to furnish a box containing lunch for two, placing her name inside; she will then be the dinner guest of the man who purchases her box. Old-time music will be a feature, and a large crowd and a jolly good time is anticipated. The public is invited.

DRUGGISTS MAY FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—While reports were circulated that druggists and physicians of Southern California might start a legal battle along new lines in their efforts to defeat the Gandier liquor law of Los Angeles, which restricts physicians to half-pint prescriptions, city officials were in conference today formulating a new policy to enforce the ordinance.

Beaten from the Los Angeles police court to the United States supreme court, which, in effect, upheld the Gandier law, the druggists and physicians were preparing, it was said, to combat the ordinance, claiming it conflicts with the Wright act, the state liquor law.

TO NOMINATE M'ADOO

WASHINGTON, May 28.—James D. Phelan of San Francisco, former United States senator from California, will place the name of William G. McAdoo before the New York Democratic convention for the presidential nomination, Mr. McAdoo announced here.

Councilman Davis introduced a Resolution entitled, "A Resolution of the Council of the City of Glendale adopting Specifications No. 72 for the construction of Warrenite Bitulithie Pavement, within said City," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2417 and adopted.

On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, the following Resolution was adopted: "RESOLVED: By the Council of the City of Glendale that the Mayor be and he is hereby authorized and directed to execute on behalf of the City of Glendale a certain agreement dated May 10th, 1924, between the Pacific Electric Railway Company and the City of Glendale, by the terms of which the City of Glendale agrees to pay the Pacific Electric railway company the sum of five dollars for a grant of privilege to construct, maintain and operate a 2" water main beneath the right of way and under the tracks of the Pacific Electric Railway Company at or near Brand Boulevard and Cerritos Avenue Station, Glendale Line, County of Los Angeles, State of California."

On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, duly carried, meeting was adjourned.

GLENDALE WOMAN TO PLAY RAMONA

Mildred Brewster Chosen to Take Part in Second Annual Pageant

Mildred Brewster of Glendale will take the part of Ramona in the second annual production of the Ramona Pageant to be given at Hemet on May 30, 31 and June 1. Mrs. Brewster arrived in Hemet on Sunday to join the 150 members of the pageant cast already on the ground.

Mrs. Brewster, who is the wife of Harold L. Brewster, dramatic instructor in the Glendale schools, is well known throughout California for her dramatic ability. In recent months she has appeared as a reader before practically every woman's club of importance in Southern California.

The Ramona Pageant this year will be one of the most spectacular productions ever attempted in California. It will be given in the Ramona Bowl, south of Hemet, under the auspices of the Hemet-San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce.

Expect Ten Thousand

Hemet may be reached by paved boulevards from all parts of Southern California. There are excellent hotel and resort accommodations for visitors. Ten thousand people are expected to see the pageant this year.

The pageant will follow accurately the novel, Ramona, by Helen Hunt Jackson, who wrote her famous story at old San Jacinto and found her characters and historical background in that vicinity. The pageant will be given under the direction of Garnet Holme, director of the Pilgrimage Play at Hollywood and a dozen other open-air productions that have helped to spread the fame of California around the world.

graph records, pointing out telling contrasts in the modern and old-time dance music and so-called popular songs.

The radio and moving picture theatre were cited by Mrs. Oberndorfer as being potent factors in making "Good music popular and popular music good."

Receipts from Fete

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, presided over the club meeting, during which announcement was made that the ways and means committee will realize between $500 and $600 on the recent garden fete at the L. C. Brand estate.

At the executive board meeting preceding the afternoon program yesterday decision was made that the annual luncheon and final club gathering of the year will take place Tuesday, January 17.

Next Tuesday, at the luncheon and regular club meeting speakers will be Mrs. Mary Smith of Ontario, flag chairman for the California Daughters of the American Revolution and a gold star mother, who will speak on "Patriotism;" Mrs. Florence Dobbinson of Los Angeles, who will speak on "The Future of the Drama; and Mrs. J. J. Carter, president of the Hollywood Community chorus.

In the afternoon Mrs. W. K. Chambers and company will give the three-act play, "A Southern Cinderella."

Home Life in Japan

On Tuesday, June 10, the club members will hear Mrs. Stella Hays Salisbury talk on "Home Life in Japan." Mrs. Salisbury and her husband and son are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury of 1136 North Central avenue.

On the play day of the Biennial, Saturday, June 7, the Tuesday Afternoon club will hold open house from 2:30 till 5:30 o'clock. The board of directors will receive and the hospitality committee will serve. Each guest will be presented with Chamber of Commerce booklets on Glendale and a year book of the club.

BID GOODBYE TO CHURCH WORKERS

Mr. and Mrs. Philgren Guests At Farewell Party on Eve of Departure

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Philgren and their children, Dorothy and Bobbie, of 1303 East Colorado street, were guests Tuesday night at a gathering of their friends and fellow church workers in the social hall of the Broadway Methodist church, the occasion being a "good bye" party in their honor. The Philgrens expect to leave on Friday for an extended business trip to their former home in Seattle.

Short speeches were made by J. W. Knight, class teacher; Richard Ford, president of the class; Will J. Myers, choir director; J. N. McGillis, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Rev. L. J. Millikan, pastor of the church, all expressing appreciation for their willing assistance in the various departments of the church work, and wishing them a safe and pleasant trip, and a speedy return to Glendale. Responses by Mr. and Mrs. Philgren were touchingly beautiful, both expressing their delight for the love and friendship thus manifested.

The Philgrens have been leaders in the activities of the church, and will be greatly missed by their friends. Refreshments were served, after which games were enjoyed.

After disposing of their property in the northern city they will return to Glendale, they hope, not later then September, and make it their permanent home.

MURPHY TO MOVE NORTH ON BRAND

Last Performance In Present Location Is Scheduled At Tent Tonight

Tonight will witness the last performance of Murphy's Comedians in their old location at North Brand boulevard and California street. The show is "Nothing But the Truth." Thursday night they open up with the same show several blocks farther up Brand boulevard, at the Stocker street corner, in Casa Verdugo.

"Nothing But the Truth" sets forth in hilarious fashion the efforts of a young clubman to win a wager by telling the strict truth for a certain period. He succeeds so admirably that several divorce suits begin to loom on the horizon, and his friends realize they must get him out of town—so they kidnap him.

This results in one of the funniest situations ever seen on the stage. The play ends in the most surprising manner.

ment, in every public school and college in the state of California.

"We would also ask that other civic bodies and all who are interested will co-operate with us in this great movement."

Many Resolutions

Sixteen resolutions were adopted by the delegates. Briefly summarized, the resolutions were as follows:

1. Favoring the establishment of pre-school age and high school departments in the state association.

2. Endorsing the Constitution oratorical contest now being conducted throughout the United States.

3. Urging a stricter enforcement of the slave traffic laws.

4. Authorizing the sending of messages to California congressmen, urging them to use every effort toward the passing of the child labor amendment during this session of Congress.

5. Reaffirming the stand of the association for universal peace and calling upon the United States government to call an international conference to that end.

Education Bill

6. Authorizing the sending of messages to California congressmen, urging them to use every effort toward the passing of the Sterling-Reed education bill.

7. Recommending the establishment of a course of training for teachers of subnormal children.

8. Endorsing the establishment of county preventoriums for the care of malnourished children.

9. Sponsoring a movement in all school districts to determine the number of crippled children, and urging an active campaign to enlist widespread interest in the application of those provisions of the state law providing for their eduction in special classes or schools.

10. Reaffirming support of the eighteenth amendment and of the state and national prohibition enforcement laws.

School Cafeterias

11. Recommending that legislation be enacted giving boards of education power to establish cafeterias with public funds at their own discretion.

12. Asking the legislature to enact a law providing that some portion of the Bible be read, without comment, in every public school and college in the state.

13. Supporting legislation denying drivers' licenses to those who, after a thorough test, are proven physically, mentally or morally unfit to drive a motor vehicle.

14. Pledging the co-operation of the association with other child welfare organizations in promoting standard juvenile courses, skilled probation service, adequate detention facilities, private hearings, elimination of undue publicity in the press and the hearings and pledging the endeavor of the association in the protection and care of neglected children.

Mourn Associate

15. Expressing the grief of the association in the death of Mrs. Chalmers Smith, second state president, whose death last summer deprived the organization of one of its leaders.

16. Expressing the thanks of the association to the First District, P.-T. A., the Pasadena Federation, Mrs. Albert Deike and other convention chairmen, the Chamber of Commerce, police department, board of education, Pasadena High school, the Maryland hotel, the Pasadena newspapers and others for their contributions toward the success of the 1924 convention.

Invitations Extended

Invitations for the 1925 convention were extended by Mrs. Henry Droge, representing the Fresno district, and by the Yosemite Valley P.-T. A., and the management of Camp Curry in Yosemite Valley. The selection of the 1925 meeting place is left to the state executive board.

An invitation to hold the 1926 convention in San Bernardino was received from the Chamber of Commerce of that city.

FIREMEN TO HAVE NEW DRILL TOWER

Eighty-Foot Structure to Be Used In Practice Work Of Department

A new drill tower under construction at the rear of the fire station on East Broadway will provide facilities for drill practice that would be similar to any emergencies to be overcome while fighting a fire in a six-story building, according to Fire Chief A. H. Lankford.

The tower is approximately eighty feet high and has seven platforms including the roof. It will be used for practice with the scaling ladders and for net jumping, the chief reports. Most of the work is being done by the members of company Number 1 and it is planned to have the tower completed by the first of next week.

"The York"

From English halls, castles and cottages, designs of old furniture have been gathered to lend to modern American homes the fine dignity of the Old Empire.

This well made and beautifully finished suite, revealing the touch of the Italian Renaissance influence carries with it the dignified effects and restful atmosphere desirable in the dining room.

The symmetrically turned legs, carved and ornamented fronts, and rich finish, combine to make a truly fine suite adapted to the average dining room of taste.

It would be difficult to find a suite more thoroughly pleasing or adapted to a wider variety of homes.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY PASSES THE CAKE

"Uncle Wiggily, I suppose you will be going adventuring again today, won't you?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning after the rabbit gentleman had eaten breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow.

"Why, no, I wasn't planning to go out today," answered Mr. Longears. "I thought I'd stay at home and work in the garden."

"Oh!" exclaimed Nurse Jane, but she said it in such a queer voice that Uncle Wiggily asked:

"Why, what's the matter? Don't you want me to stay home?"

"Well, I have invited some of the animal ladies to come and have a cup of tea and a bit of cake with me," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "And, as I know you don't care to be around when there are a lot of animal ladies here, I thought perhaps you would go away, as you nearly always do. But, of course, if you like to stay, you could pass the cake!" And she sort of winked one eye.

"No, thank you! No passing of cake for me!" laughed the bunny uncle. "I'll go adventuring."

"I think perhaps you'd better," spoke Nurse Jane.

So Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy got ready to serve cakes and tea to her animal lady friends and Uncle Wiggily gave his pink nose an extra twinkle and started to hop over the fields and through the woods to look for an adventure.

The rabbit gentleman had not hopped very far through the woods before, all of a sudden, he heard a voice saying:

"Oh, dear! What's the use of going on! I might as well stay right here and give up! I'm so hungry and I never can seem to find anything to eat!"

"Ha! Here is some one in trouble, I'm sure!" thought Uncle Wiggily. "I only hope it isn't the Wolf or Fox hungry for me. I'll peek through the bushes."

Looking through the bushes, Uncle Wiggily saw only a poor old tramp dog, ragged and forlorn, and very hungry he seemed.

"May I have the pleasure of helping you?" asked Uncle Wiggily politely of the tramp dog. "What is the trouble?"

"Oh, I haven't had anything to eat in a long while," said the tramp dog.

Uncle Wiggily thought for a moment and then asked:

"Can you eat cake?"

"Can I eat cake? I should say I could!" barked the dog. "But where can I find cake, or even pie, or even bread and butter?"

"In my hollow stump bungalow there is much cake," said Uncle Wiggily. "Nurse Jane is having a sort of party this afternoon—that's why I didn't stay. But there is sure to be more cake than she and her animal lady friends need. Come, we'll go in the back way. The cake will be in the pantry. I'll get some for you and some for me, as I am beginning to feel hungry myself, now."

"Oh, thank you, kind sir," murmured the tramp dog.

So he followed Uncle Wiggily back to the hollow stump bungalow. There was a mumble of many voices talking.

"That's the company," whispered the rabbit.

He led the tramp dog in the back way and there on the pantry shelf was a plate full of cakes. In the dining room Nurse Jane was making tea for the company.

"Here, help yourself," invited Uncle Wiggily, passing the plate of cakes to the hungry dog.

"I could eat all these," whispered the dog, "but what will Nurse Jane do for cakes for her company?"

"There are plenty more," said the bunny. "See—a whole box full!" And he showed them to the dog.

So while the tramp bow-wow ate one plate of cakes Uncle Wiggily filled another plate with cakes from the box in case Nurse Jane should want that for her lady friends. And no sooner had the rabbit done this than Nurse Jane entered the pantry.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" she cried in surprise, "you're just in time to pass the cakes! And who is this?" she asked, looking at the tramp dog. Mr. Longears introduced him to Nurse Jane and the bunny was going to take the plate of cakes in and pass them to the animal ladies when, all of a sudden, the Fuzzy Fox thrust his head in the pantry window.

"Can you eat cake?"

"I'm hungry! I want something to eat," growled the Fox, most impolitely. "Give me something to eat!"

"Here, have a cake. This is one I don't want!" growled the tramp dog. He thrust something into the open mouth of the Fox, and all at once the Fox jumped up and howled. Then he jumped down and howled. Then he spun around like a top and away he ran, foaming at the mouth, howling and yowling.

"What kind of cake did you give him?" asked the bunny of the dog.

"I gave him a cake of soap!" laughed the tramp. "I carry a piece of soap in my pocket to wash with and I thought the Fox might like it."

"Well, he took it, anyhow!" laughed the bunny. And then he passed the good cakes to the animal ladies and they all said the tramp dog was very brave.

And if the piece of cheese doesn't chase the apple pie under the table where the powdered sugar can't find it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Bully No Tail.

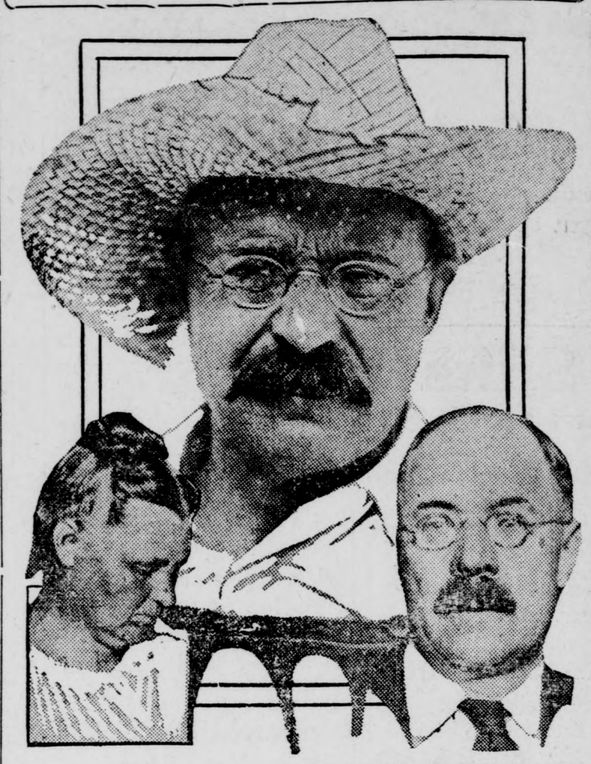
Will Stick To Senate

MAGNUS JOHNSON refuses to accede to his wife's request to return to the farm. Photos show the Senator in his farm clothes and his Washington rig. MRS. JOHNSON at lower left.



WASHINGTON, May 28.—'Twix love and duty—

"Ma" Johnson wants Magnus to come home.

"Farming is a whole lot better than trying to play politics down at Washington," she wrote him.

"Not now, Ma. Later," the Farmer-Labor senator from Minnesota answered, explaining that there are too many important measures pending in the senate for him to leave now.

Mrs. Johnson left the capital recently for the old homestead out in Minnesota suffering from home sickness. Incidentally, she could not get used to the social customs of smoking cigarettes and carrying hip flasks."

Frowned on Publicity Schemes

She spoke deprecatingly, before leaving, of her senator-husband's publicity schemes. She did not think much of the milking contest in which he engaged with the secretary of agriculture, Henry C. Wallace, and lost.

"Magnus got most of the milk on his trousers," she said.

In her letter just received "Ma" Johnson says:

"Everything is fine on the farm. There are nineteen fresh cows and twenty-five little piggies with excellent prospects for many more."

Those Washington newspaper men who are hostile to him last week scrutinized his senatorial record.

They pointed out that:

Farms Unrelated to Bills

He so far has introduced thirteen bills. None of them relates to the farmers whose salvation he proposed to achieve. Eight of them are for personal claims or pensions for voters in his state. Typical of the others is his bill to abolish capital punishment in the District of Columbia.

The peace plan, announced from afar by hs "magnabox" voice, consisted entirely of a few whereases and a suggestion that the president call an international conference to make arbitration treaties.

Mr. Johnson's most justly famous speech on the floor of the Senate was the one in which he pronounced McAdoo "Micky Doo." The sole disturbance caused by him was an attack on the press gallery for what he said was misrepresentation of his grammar and accent.

"NATIONAL RUSSIAN DEMOCRACY TO REPLACE SOVIET REGIME," SAYS KERENSKY

The passing of Lenine means the death of the Bolshevist regime in Russia, which will be replaced by "a national Russian government, based on a true democracy," in the opinion of the man whom the communists overthrew in 1917 to seize control.

Alexander Kerensky, leader of the initial revolutionary movement that deposed the czar, today is one of the editors of the newspaper Dni, in Berlin, the organ of the moderate Russian Socialists.

He stated his views on Russia and the future to Georg Popoff, correspondent of a Swedish newspaper, who was a revolutionist himself in the army uprising. His article is printed in the Living Age.

"Essentially Lenine has been dead for several months," he said. "Therefore I hardly believe his departure will have any immediate consequences. But for the future his final disappearance is of enormous importance, because his will affected, even from the sanatorium at Gorki, the acts of the Soviet government."

"I am convinced the Bolshevist regime will be overthrown," he said. "I shall not venture to predict exactly when. But the collapse is nearer than ever. Nor is it possible to say how it will be brought about. Before and during the war my partisans used to ask me when the revolution would break out. How can such a thing be predicted?"

"None in the Communist regime is strong enough to wear Lenine's mantle. I do not see any important personality among them," said Kerensky. "Zinoviev is one of Lenine's creatures, unable to stand alone, a repulsive reptile, hated even by the Communists themselves. Kamenev is a theorist, lacking decision, Stalin is a Georgian bandit, nothing else. There remains Trotsky. But first of all he is actually ill. The reports of his illness are reliable and are not the usual Bolshevist make-believe yarns.

"Even if he were well, Trotsky could never play Lenine's role, because the flock of jailbirds that for years has surrounded Lenine, Zinoviev, Stalin and the others, has never admitted Trotsky to the inner Communist circle. Abroad it has hardly been known, but among the Russian revolutionists it has never been a secret that Trotsky has always been an independent personality, submitting only with difficulty to the Bolshevist discipline. The others have always suspected and feared him."

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By R. T. BULKELEY,
For International News Service.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 27.—Four years at Yale have left firmly impressed upon the minds of a majority of men of the class of 1924 that athletics are above scholarship, the Yale "Y" more to be desired than Phi Beta Kappa's golden key—if the results of the recent class vote are a true indication. Despite preachments of prexy and prof, Yale 1924 S has voted, as the honor most to be desired: "Y," 74; Sigma XI, 16; football captain, 13; football "Y," 6; degree, 5. Then came 1924 Ac. to vote as to the highest honor; "Y," 127; Phi Beta Kappa, 95; football captain, 23; chairman of Yale News, 13.

"Charlie" O'Hearn and "Bill" Mallory are credited with having done most for Yale in their four years here. O'Hearn is Sheff's best all-around athlete, Mallory's the best of academic cohorts.

Members of the Protestant Episcopal Church led all other denominations, according to 1924 statistics. Yale, founded as a Congregational college, finds that denomination dropping down the list as church members are counted up. They are third in number in academic and fourth in Sheff.

Only the graduating class will be able to use its own dormitory rooms when the reunion classes come back, perhaps 10,000 strong, in June and celebrate, in and out of costume, in Yale's greatest annual event of pure graduate interest. From the secretary's office has gone word that all but the graduating class must be out by June 11, so the visitors may have places to lay their heads—if not to sleep.

In other years the "town" boarding houses have been turned over as a whole for reunions. The university took the task on itself this year for the first time, the reason being chiefly that only two boarding houses now exist where scores were before. The university has bought all the property along York College and Wall streets, once the boarding house district, and is getting ready to rip out old houses in wholesale fashion to erect monumental buildings.

The commencement program for this year is: Saturday, June 15, baccalaureate; Monday, June 16, reunion, picnics; Tuesday, June 17, alumni meeting in morning; parade, circus and Harvard baseball, afternoon; class dinners, evening; Wednesday, June 18, commencement, followed by alumni luncheon, with announcement of monetary gifts.

Yale's political activities were increased by formation of a "third party," with the title, "The Yale Club for Progressive Political Action." With Republicans and Democrats holding lively meetings the men getting real training for the coming fray, it is certain that Yale will follow the old precedent again this year and send some of her students to speak in the national field for one party or another. The lid will be off in earnest when the new college year opens.

Freshman class leaders are coming to the surface. Louis Pierre Brosseau, of New York, is Year Book chairman; Charles Watson, 3rd, of Philadelphia, is managing editor, and Robert Maxwell Stockder, of Hartford, Conn., is business manager.

Orville Bird Skinner, of Burnham, Pa., is Yale's leading bowler, and has been given the R. E. Grant cup for the best seasonal score. L. G. Weinecke, of Tulsa, Okla., is the new bowling captain.

ANSWERS TO CORRESONDENTS

Mrs. C.—If you will take the neck exercises, bending the head backwards and sidewards and forwards, rubbing the chin with a firm downward motion as you do the exercise, the muscles of the neck will round out and the double chin will disappear without leaving wrinkles — unless, of course, you are at an age where the skin is inelastic and will not contract.

This age at which the skin becomes inelastic varies with different people. Sometimes the elasticity is lost by the time one reaches 40 and sometimes not until long after. If your skin has reached the stage of inelasticity it is possible the exercises may bring back its tone, but I cannot promise you. You may have to choose between wrinkles and the double chin. Personally, I would rather have the wrinkles. Certainly you will be better physically in every other way by reducing.

Mrs. F.—If you go to a good dentist, he will advise the right kind of plates for your false teeth. Even one decayed tooth can cause a lot of trouble, and when they are all so decayed as yours were, especially with pyorrhea combined, you did the best thing to have them all out. You will probably find that a lot of your pains and aches will disappear.

"Dear Doctor—Some time ago I wrote you asking for treatment on syriocis (skin trouble). I have bought the paper daily without finding a reply. I know several people who are troubled with this disease, and are waiting for your reply.—E. B."

You must not wait for a reply in the column when you have anything the matter with you, E. B., because it may be so long before the answer appears, even if the question is of general interest. I have written on psoriasis and that is the disease you meant, undoubtedly, for there is no disease "syriocis." So perhaps you missed the article by not knowing the correct spelling. However, as it is a rather common disease, I'll repeat.

Psoriasis is one of the most difficult of the skin diseases to cure permanently. Its cause is not fully known. Inheritance, infection, disturbances of the nervous system, disturbances of the internal secretory glands, etc. —all have been suspected. Digestive disorders seem to aggravate or provoke the disease, and some of those who have psoriasis are rheumatic or gouty.

The patches of psoriasis appear mostly upon the covered parts, and daily exposure of the sun's rays is one of the measures advised for treatment.

If a subject of psoriasis is underweight, then the diet should be one which will cause a gain; and if the subject is overweight, one which would cause a reduction. In other words, normal weight should be striven for. Liberal amounts of fruits and vegetables—especially the green leaf vegetables—should be taken daily, and careful attention paid to the bowels. The text books on skin diseases advise the elimination of all meat and fish, and sometimes eggs.

Many remedies have been used for local treatments of the patches. Jackson speaks of salicylic acid ointment, 5 to 20 per cent strength. Another authority, Crocker, advocates a solution made of one drachm of oil of turpentine in seven ounces of olive oil. The proportion of the turpentine is increased as the skin becomes accustomed to it. Skin specialists use the quartz vapor lamp rays.

If you will telephone the county medical society of your city, it will recommend some reliable skin specialist to you.

"Dear Doctor—Just five weeks ago today I started on my diet and have lost 16 pounds and have taken off over two inches in the hips. I am feeling so much better than I did that I will continue. When I started to diet my weight was 310 pounds.—Mrs. E."

Three hundred and ten pounds! My word! You were certainly fat, weren't you? Keep us posted. We will watch with great interest. Won't you write me once a month and report your loss and other points of interest?

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a.s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Hints For Bride's Clothes

Handsome frocks and coats are essential to the proper fitting out of the June bride, and the season's newest style lend themselves to ravishing effects that add a greater attraction to the wardrobe of the girl embarking on matrimonial seas.

By MME. LISBETH

Having been a bride myself I know the attitude of "watchful waiting" one adopts when preparing the trousseau. One scans the fashion sheets with the eye of a gold seeker for at any moment one may run on to a nugget of value. One may not be a howling beauty and know it, but when one is a bride it is the time to put one's best foot (and other features) forward by giving them a becoming setting not only to please the "only man in the world" but to make a good impression on his friends.

The three garments illustrated are all bridey looking and would be serviceable as well as handsome. Take the white crepe de chine blouse on the left. It is long, with the hip band slightly gathered crosswise and displaying a row of buttons at the side. It also has a sash of self material which is tied at an almost normal waistline and set-in pockets. I am calling your attention to these points for fear you may miss them in contemplation of the gorgeous roses of red kidskin that are appliqued on. These roses have a background of embroidered scrolls and leaves, the latter done in a lazy daisy stitch.

A charming frock is pictured in the center. It is fashioned of blue and black printed crepe. Panels of red and green embroidery are used for trimming, and the most bridey touch of all is the huge sash of double faced ribbon placed at the left side. The frock has a matching scarf edged with the ribbon. The girl who has a talent for embroidery is certainly lucky as this form of trimming was never so popular as today.

The brown satin coat (at the right) is another dressy garment which a bride could use. It has deep cuffs of tucking and a band of same near the bottom with further trimmings of Roman embroidery. A collar of soft fur finishes the neck. With it is worn a large picture hat of brown horsehair and lace with a single rose for trimming.

THICK EYELASHES

If you want luxuriously thick, long eyelashes, you must be willing to go for some months with very short stubby ones. For clipping the lashes is a necessary part of any treatment. You must use your curved manicure scissors and keep the points out from the eyes. You must clip carefully, taking off the least bit of the ends of the hairs. It is not necessary to cut the lashes very short, but the cutting must be repeated at about fortnightly intervals for some months.

Then you must find a cream that will make the lashes grow. I see many are advertised, I know little of their value. You can use a hair tonic on the eyebrows, but not the lashes, for if it gets into the eyes it will sting and smart unbearably, perhaps even injure the eyesight. You should use only fats that you know grow hair. Cocoa butter and lanoline are the standard hair-producing fats. But as both are hard, oil must be added to make a suitable mixture.: Therefore, make the eyelash cream this way:

Cocoa butter.....1 dram
Wax or cold cream....4 drams
Lanoline .....½ dram
Oil of sweet almonds..4 drams
Perfumed oil.....2 drops

Beeswax or white wax makes a stiffer mixture, cold cream a thinner one. Try this receipt with the wax first and if you find it too hard to massage even after the skin has warmed, make it up with the cold cream. In any case, use it at night, for it will make the lashes feel heavy and the eyes sleepy.

A word of warning. Ordinary cold cream or petroleum jelly is no use at all for making the lashes thick or dark.

Clipping Makes the Lashes Grow

Midge—Olive oil will build up your weight, and you may continue to take it over the summer months, if you do not eat heating foods, such as meat oftener than once a day. Consult the doctor about the scar.

Yale—Everybody's eyes vary in shade just as yours do, making the change according to the degree of light at the time, and since this is natural there is nothing to do about it.

M. O. H.—The pilocarpine tonic stimulates the color cells, and it is also such a good tonic that there should be an improvement in the shade of hair that has been depleted through an unhealthy condition of the scalp.

To Can Cherries: The difference between canniing sweet and sour cherries lies in the density of the sirup used: for sour cherries use a medium-thin sirup, and for sweet cherries a thin sirup.

To Make a Medium-Thin Sirup: Combine one quart of water and three pounds of granulated sugar, heat to boiling point, then let continue to boil for four minutes. It should be slightly thick and when cooled, sticky to the touch.

To Make a Thin Sirup: Combine one quart of water and three pounds of granulated sugar; heat to boiling point and do not let boil more than a minute. It is necessary only to have the sugar thoroughly dissolved. This sirup should not be sticky.

Cold Pack Method: Wash the cherries in cold water and pit. Save whatever juice there is from the pitting process. Pack the fruit into hot, sterilized quart-size jars, add the saved juice, then fill the jars to within one-half inch of rim with boiling-hot sirup. Adjust rubbers and covers. Put top wire up, but do not press down side wires, and stand the jars on a rack or a folded cloth in the bottom of your wash-boiler in boiling-hot water which rises almost to jar-tops. After the water continues to boil, take account of time, letting it boil around the jars for 16 minutes. Remove jars, invert to test for leaks, label and store. (Note: Cherries may be canned in exactly the same way without pitting, but I believe that the extra trouble of pitting is well worth taking).

Cherry Preserves: Stone and mash enough ripe cherries to give one cupful of cherry juice. Strain this from the crushed fruit and place it in a preserving kettle with three pounds of granulated sugar; let this sirup boil for four minutes, then add to it four pounds of pitted, whole cherries and let cook till the fruit is clear. Cool slightly, pack into hot, sterilized pint-size jars, adjust rubbers and covers, partially seal and sink the jars into boiling water which reaches almost to caps; let this water boil around them for 15 minutes. Remove jars, completely seal, cool, label and store.

Heart and Home

SPENDING MONEY

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 18 years old. I make $15 a week. How much spending money do you think I ought to get? Do you believe in paying board at home, and how much?

If I go with a fellow once in a great while my mother thinks I am in love with him and says he isn't nice and things like that.

Do you think it is all right for young people, seventeen and over, to play kissing games at parties? ROSY CHEEKS.

Your spending money would depend entirely on the number of things you had to buy with it. I do think in the average case that a girl ought to pay board at home when she is working. Where the money is very necessary to the support of the home, she ought to pay what she would pay were she living elsewhere. But if her parents can get along without her help, she should pay only what her living at home costs her mother. If you buy your own clothes you should pay from $5 to $10 at home, but I don't see how you could get along on less than $5. Kissing games are cheap amusement. I would not advise anyone to play them, regardless of age. Your mother probably thinks of you as a little girl and does not realize you are old enough to have young men friends, but of course you are.

ILLEGAL MARRIAGE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married girl sixteen years old. I was just married in March. My husband is only 18 years old and he did not have his parents' consent to marry. I am of a different religion from his people and they hate me and treat my husband severely over his marriage to me.

His folks are going to start suit to separate us and say they will put my husband in the reformatory. When we were married the judge did not make my husband swear to his age as he looked all of twenty-one. Do you think his folks can punish him in this threatening way?

Shall I remain with him or let him return home? He says he loves me and will not return home. I love him very dearly.

TROUBLED WIFE

My dear girl, your marriage is not legal and your husband's parents have the law on their side to do as they threaten. I would advise you to talk to an attorney at once. He may be able to convince your husband's parents that it would be wrong to take their son away from you. I think that in the eyes of God it would be wrong, but as I have said before you married on false pretenses and they have the legal right to separate you. Doubtless you yourself realized you were doing a wrong and illegal thing and now you will have to stand the consequences.

FOURTEEN AND CHAPERONS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it all right for a girl of fourteen to have one night a week, Saturday night, for which to go to a show or dance when she is chaperoned by two respectable married women? What should a girl say when a fellow thanks her for a dance? THANK YOU.

A girl of fourteen is very young to attend dances at night. I think, however, that it would be all right to go to a show when properly chaperoned. She should say that she enjoyed it or if she did not, she might thank him for asking her.

SHOES AND GLOVES

NEW YORK, May 28. — It is possible today to get shoes and gloves which exactly match. In a mode shade the gloves have frilly gauntlets with an open work pattern faced with white kid. The shoe, in mode suede, have a rosette of this open work combined with the white kid beneath a small buckle.

TULLE IS POPULAR

PARIS, May 28. — While the brightly colored scarf is no less in vogue today, many women are wearing a swath of plain or colored tulle around the throat, allowing the ends to trail. Black gowns with bright jade or American beauty tulle are effective, the tulle often forming the train.

BRIDE'S HOSE

NEW YORK, May 28.—Bridal stockings now are ornamented on the front from toe to knee, with a vine and flower pattern, embroidered heavily so that it stands out. Other bridal stockings are plain white silk, not very thin, but of beautiful quality.

ATHLETIC CORSET

NEW YORK, May 28.—A corset designed for the athletic woman who is athletic chiefly because she wants to reduce is of pure rubber. It has bones only in front and in back and is notable for its lack of silk elastic and of anything except severe tailor-made ornamentation.

DUST CAP OR HAT

PARIS, May 28.—If you take a fold of cloth, bind it around your eyebrows, tie it back across your head and let the ends flap—you have an improvised dust cap. But if you take a wide piece of moire ribbon and do the same thing you have one of the new hats.

BOOST GLENDALE AS MAJOR TEAM TRAINING CAMP

City Would Receive Untold Publicity; Possible if Co-operation Given

By AL DIX,
Of The Evening News Staff.

If there has ever been a time in the history of Glendale when this city had country wide advertising of the finest kind within its grasp, that t'me is right now. Reference is made to the possibility of getting a major league team to train here next spring.

This year, two National league clubs conditioned in California—the Chicago Cubs at Catalina and the Pittsburgh Pirates at Paso Robles. In addition to these two teams, the Kansas City Blues used Eddie Maier's Vernon park as a spring training camp. Los Angeles went to Long Beach and Vernon worked out at Washington Park.

After trouble of some sort at San Bernardino, Wade Killifer brought his Seattle team to Glendale for three days just before the season opened, to finish training, and was very enthusiastic over the White Sox park on San Fernando road.

City Has Advantages

He stated without hesitation that this city offered wonderful training camp advantages, in all but one respect, and that was a hotel where a ball team could be housed under the watchful eyes of the manager and trainer.

With the announcement this week that a hotel is to be erected, at last, on the Glendale avenue site this feature should be taken care of when next spring arrives. Without a hotel Glendale cannot take care of a team properly, as it is not advisable for a team to stay in Los Angeles and train in Glendale, for various reasons. Killifer signified his intention of coming here next year if satisfactory arrangements could be made.

But, although a Pacific Coast league team would be better than none, Glendale should aim higher and get a major league team to train here in 1925. It is a well known fact in baseball circles that at least a half a dozen teams that have never journeyed to the Coast before intend to take the trip next spring if suitable locations can be secured. Glendale has the location and should secure one of these teams.

Climate Here Ideal

The wonderful showing of the Chicago Cubs this year has been attributed by John McGraw of the Giants to the fact that they entered the National league race in fine condition due to their sojourn in Catalina. The Pirates also opened up in mid-season form.

"Emil" Irish Meusel, Giant outfielder who winters in Los Angeles has been telling McGraw of the wonderful training weather in southern California. This spring the Giants conditioned at Sarasota, Fla., where John Ringling, part owner of the team, has made large investments. Despite this fact, McGraw would gladly turn westward, as for two weeks this spring the weather in Florida prohibited work outs of any length.

This spring the teams training in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and not in the city itself, did not lose one hour owing to inclement weather. As far as the climate goes, no other section of the country can put forth the advantages that southern California possesses.

Yanks Want Camp

The other New York team, the world's champion Yankees are also looking around for a good location. If either of these teams could be induced to come to Glendale the advertising this city would get could not be measured in dollars and cents.

Some twelve or fifteen baseball writers would accompany these teams on their spring training trip, and thousands of words would be filed under a Glendale date line, and read by millions in New York and the east. In addition to this, the players themselves during the summer season would spread propaganda relative to the advantages of the city where they trained, or vice versa if the conditions were not of the best.

Expenses Heavy

The time was, not so very long ago, when the spring training trip was a heavy drain upon the purses of the magnates. Now they expect to break even through exhibition games played before the season starts. Chicago and Pittsburgh both went back home with an entry on the right side of the ledger this spring. They made more than enough money to pay all expenses, which amounted to thousands of dollars. A major league club figures on an expenditure of approximately $800 on each player sent to a training camp.

Glendale has this advantage to offer. Capacity crowds could be attracted to any town in southern California where a well known major league team was playing. If the Giants or the Yankees came to Glendale people from all over the southwest would flock here to see them in training.

Park Satisfactory

Glendale has the ball park. The plant which Frank Kerwin and Grant Leischner built, could, with the expenditure of several thousand dollars, be made to suit the requirements of a first class ball club. Many major league teams train under worse conditions than prevail at the San Fernando road park at the present time. The club house and seating capacity could be enlarged and the outfield manicured, and everything would be in readiness for the reception of the easterners if they decided to come here.

Glendale has the climate, the crowds to draw from, and the park, and undoubtedly will have the hotel. All that is needed now is a little co-operation and the proposition can be presented to eastern ball clubs owners. Once a high-powered team is attracted to Glendale, clubs will be fighting for the privilege of training here. It is simply a matter of getting them started.

QUESTION—Batter hits the ball and the ball drops on the base and then hits the batter. Is the player out or not?
ANSWER—If the batter is in the batter's box it is a foul.

QUESTION—What is the regulation diamond from base to base?
ANSWER—Ninety feet.

QUESTION—Did Washington ever win a championship?
ANSWER—Washington has yet to have that distinction.

QUESTION—A runner hits safely and goes to first. The ball is put in play to the pitcher and the catcher fumbles the next pitch. The runner goes to second base. Some of the players on the bench of the opposing team yell to the player to go back to first base. The player does and the pitcher throws the ball to first base and the runner is tagged out. Would he have been out if he had got back before he was tagged. Could he choose first base or second?
ANSWER—The runner was out. He shouldn't permit himself to be fooled. Of course it was unsportsmanlike and that kind of baseball doesn't make much of a hit with a good American. The runner cannot retrace his steps if he has touched a base except that it is for some legal reason. He should have stuck to second until the umpire told him to the contrary.

WALSH SAYS WEST WILL WIN AGAIN

But This Time It Will Be Stanford and Not U. C. in Harvard Meet

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Track and field sharps this side of the Alleghenies are pleased today to look with favor upon another California entry in the intercollegiate A. A. A. A. track and field championships at the Harvard stadium this week-end. For three destitute years, and long, the east has seen one of its favorite possessions carried away over mountain and mesa on a transcontinental trip to a coast trophy room.

For three successive years the California Bear has been the winner against the best the east could summon.

According to the best advices, the proceeding is due to be repeated this year, not by the California Bear, but by another coast institution—namely, Leland Stanford university. Stanford is said to have everything on its team except a circus fat woman.

"Tiny" Sure to Place

First off, the Palo Alto entry figures to get away running with ten points in the shotput and discus throws—that is, unless Glen ("Tiny") Hartranft bobs up with housemaid's knee or the heebie jeebies. He has tossed the shot within a half inch of the world's record and the discus a matter of 154 feet. You can't beat these performances with the horsewhip and, figuratively speaking, the east is there with a feather duster.

Princeton is believed to be its best bet, largely because of its strength in the field events. The Tigers finished second to Yale in a dual meet, but should score heavily in the weights events with Hills, Beattie, Emery and several others.

ADD MORE SEATS TO FIGHT ARENA

Gibbons-Carpentier Battle to Attract Big Crowd Next Saturday

By ED W. SMITH.
For International News Service.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 28.—For a boxing match with no title involved, this affair between Tom Gibbons and Georges Carpentier next Saturday is attracting more attention and stirring up more interest than anything like it in years.

The demand for seats has been so strong the promoters had to draw up plans hastily for addiional seats. The former capacity of the arena was 26,000, but by Thursday night it will have seats for 12,000 more.

An excellent demonstration of Tom Gibbons' condition was furnished when he worked out nine rounds and did a lot of the side stuff common in training camps. There did not seem to be a single ounce of fat on him that could be taken off.

Ready For Battle

"I wish we were boxing tonight," was his comment when asked if he felt his condition would carry him through to victory.

There was little activity around the Frenchman's camp, though Georges did sneak off and do a few rounds on the back porch of his cottage at Long Beach. That was after he had accepted the invitation of friends and gone fishing, returning with a dozen fine white fish which found their way to the training table via the frying pan.

Today only the authorized war correspondents will view Georges work. Carpentier looks quite a bit heavier than he did at Manhasset and there are opinions expressed by some of the experts that the added weight might slow him up some. Trainer Gus Wilson laughs at this and says Georges was never better and will show it Saturday.

Gang is Gathering

Newspaper men from all parts of the country are arriving for the big show and over a million words will be filed out of Michigan City the day of the bout.

Eddie Kane and Francois Descamps, managers respectively of Gibbons and Carp, have $15,000 each on deposit with the Michigan City Chamber of Commerce as assurance of the appearance of their men.

There is little doubt of that, however. The advance sale has passed $200,000 and the demand continues as strong as ever. The gate may exceed $400,000.

LOCAL NET SQUAD DEFEATS COVINA

Players Report Courts Full Of Holes, Off Size and Poorly Cared For

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Glendale High school net team added to its string another victory yesterday when it trimmed the Covina High school tennis quartet at Covina, 17-0. The Covina courts were more like sandpiles than tennis courts and the local players had trouble getting used to them, according to reports.

Bob Laird, Glendale first man, won from "Miller" Huggins of Covina, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. Huggins apparently had all the holes memorized most of the time and hit the ball into them. It was impossible for Laird to play the net as it took a fast mountain climber to traverse the numerous hills and valleys in good time.

After the matches were over it was found that one court was four feet too wide, the other three feet too narrow, and the first court was also one foot longer than the other, according to the Glendale players.

Sharpshooting Ruts

Wayne Maxwell had little trouble in skinning Anderson, Covina. It was Maxwell's court generalship that won for him. He observed that his opponent hit all of his shots into a particular rut in the middle of the court, accordingly Maxwell stood there and managed to volley off most of Anderson's shots. As Llewellyn White was sick, Lee Osborne played third man. He finally won from Ames of Covina, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1. Francis Hardey defeated the Covina fourth man, Garner, 6-1, 6-3.

The doubles were easy for the locals. Laird and Maxwell sat on Huggins and Anderson, 6-2, 6-1, while Osborne and Hardey annihilated Garner and Ames, 6-4, 6-3.

The local team has only one more match to play, that with Alhambra. As the Moors lost their two best players, Houser and Behlow, they will be able to put up little opposition to the Dynamiters. Houser and Behlow were suspended from all further interscholastic activities by the principal of South Pasadena for swiping that school's bronze tiger and ditching it on the road.

DOPE FROM DUGOUT

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The National league race has shown little fluctuation, when you consider what the teams have shown at the week-end. And you must consider the week-end. That is the real test, because championship races usually terminate at the week-end, and it is where you stand when the old pay night rolls around that fixes your niche in the hall of fame if you happen to have got into the habit of playing baseball.

Take the Giants, for instance, because they happen to be the principal instance in the league. Notwithstanding their sloughing around in the west, they have managed to be first every Saturday night at roll call, with one exception, since the season started.

The west can't brag much when they cannot take this team out of first place and keep them out over a week-end. They had the Giants down in the middle of last week, but no sooner had they got them down than the Giants bobbed up again. It's the inability to throw New York back where there is a difference of five or six games between them and the top that keeps all the remainder of the National league on the defensive.

Five National league clubs have held the same postions for four successive week-ends. That does not indicate much progress or variety. On Wednesday, there is a great hurrah because some team has moved up a notch. But, by Saturday it is in the same old rut again. That has happened in the National league for the last three or four seasons.

The Giants, Chicago, Cincinnati and Brooklyn have clung sturdily to their places in the first division. Boston, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and St. Louis as sturdily have clung to the second.

St. Louis has played excellent ball against the eastern clubs. They gained heavily by mauling the Giants four times in succession. Very soon St. Louis will move east, and then there will be an opportunity to see whether the Cardinals are the same old morning songsters or are a little better than in the past. St. Louis has never been noted for having a cheerful time in the east.

The American league has not shaken the Yanks out of first place for four weeks, although it has managed to drag them down to a tie with Boston. One may imagine, though, that if they ever do get the Yanks away from the top, the Yanks will have a tougher time getting back than the Giants have had. The fighting units of the National show too little inclination to keep up a steady battle, while those of the American are on the warpath every minute.

The fluctuations in the American league, with the exception of Washington, have been terrific. The Athletics have gone from fourth to second, to seventh, to eighth. Boston started in first place, dropped to seventh and then climbed to second, to a tie for first. Detroit has been a little more conservative, having fluctuated only from first to fourth. Chicago began at the top, plunged to fourth, went up to second, and then down again to sixth. Cleveland has been all up and down the list, from sixth to fourth to eighth, to fourth, to sixth, to seventh. The Yanks and St. Louis began very humbly, but both of them have climbed, and you'd better keep an eye on both. The fate of the championship may be centered on these two clubs.

BEES SLUG WAY TO VICTORY IN OPENING BATTLE

Angels Are Shut Out, 4-0 By Hurling of Ponder, Former Krugman

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—Two former Los Angeles players, traded to the Salt Lake club for one, aided materially in the downfall of the Angels yesterday at Washington park, when the Bees shut out Krug's outfit and copped the opening game of an eight game series, 4 to 0.

Elmer Ponder, pitcher, who caused a sensation two years ago when he won ten games in a row, and Second Baseman Lindimore, who was not so much with the Angels, were the pair who performed notably for Duffy Lewis' gang. Ponder was master of the situation from the start, allowing but six scattered hits and Lindimore contributed three hits out of four trips to the plate, and received a great hand on each trip to the platter.

Local Youth May Go To Olympic Finals

Holly Moyse, son of George U. Moyse, principal of the Glendale High school, was chosen by the Los Angeles Olympic committee as one of the sixteen optional athletes to compete in the final Olympic games tryouts at the Harvard stadium June 13 and 14. He took first in the hammer throw at the Los Angeles tryouts last Saturday.

Twenty-five track stars will be sent east and the sixteen others, recommended by the committee, may take part if sufficient funds were realized at the meet Saturday to care for their expenses or if the organization for which they competed will raise the money. Moyse wore the colors of Caltech.

He has had an enviable athletic record during his college career, having won his numerals in four sports in his freshman year, and his letter in three major sports. In his first year he played on the freshman basketball, football, baseball and track squads, and since then has made his letter in all of these sports except basketball. He was captain of the Caltech football team this year.

High Jump Record Shattered In Meet Held In Illinois

URBANA, Ill., May 28.—Another world's record went into the discard here yesterday when Harold M. Osborne, former University of Illinois track star, but now wearing the shield of the Illinois A. C., cleared the bar at 6 feet 8¼ inches in the high jump at the Central States Olympic tryouts. The previous high mark for this event was held by Ed Beeson, Olympic club of San Francisco, made July 2, 1914, which was 6 feet 7 5-16 inches. Osborne holds the world's record for the high jump indoors.

Glendale Dynamiters Will Play Alhambra

Today the Glendale High school Dynamiters take on the Alhambra Moors on the latter's field. The last time the two outfits met the Dynamiters had the game on ice when the Moors made six runs in the ninth inning off Louis Dotson and Bert Foster, winning the tilt, 9-5. Charlie Smith will pitch today, with Jimmy Stumpf behind the bat. Les Lavelle will cavort around the initial bag with Johnny Lovell at second, Muff at short, and either Ray Gene Doll or Louis Dotson on third. Bud Elliott, Meridith Osborne and Red Smith will probably play in the outfield. The batteries for Alhambra will probably be Fred Flinker and "Pat" Donaldson.

Gun metal is made from a combination of tin and copper.

Argue's Injured Heel May Keep Him Home

Cliff Argue, widely known track man of Occidental college, who was figured as one of the strongest competitors for the pentathlon at the Boston tryouts next month, may not be able to go east to take part in the eastern elimination meet as the result of an injured heel which has all the marks of blood poisoning. The Oxy star at present is unable to walk on the injured member and unless it heals rapidly he will probably not leave June 3, with Lewis and Kaer, winners of the decathlon and pentathlon events at the local tryouts.

Argue entered the Olympic tryouts Saturday at the coliseum with a blister on his heel. The blister was broken during the afternoon and the heel has become infected. The heel was lanced yesterday, and, according to reports, it may heal up rapidly, although it will prevent him from trying out in the five events this week.

The Occidental star was counted on as one of the strongest all-around men in the country and his marks and times at present are better than any that have been made in the east. Two weeks of rest may do him good and every one is pulling for the speedy recovery of the track star.

HIGH SCHOOL GYM WORK UNDER WAY

Completion of Showers and Locker Rooms Proves Help to Athletes

Now that the new dressing and locker rooms under the grandstand at Broadway High school are finished, the boys are getting down to real gym work.

One of the features of the last quarter of school is the decathlon. Every boy in the school is expected to compete in the events, which are the broad jump, high jump, shotput, circling the bases, 100-yard dash, baseball throw for distance, baseball throw for accuracy, the football pass for distance and the football kick for distance. The weight, height and age of each boy is taken, and from these the classes are made. There are three classes, and the minimum time or distance for each is set.

It is now a pleasure for the boys to take a shower and dress. Ten minutes before the period ends a line forms and the towels are handed out. Twenty-five showers, connected with a 1200-gallon automatic hot water tank, are installed in a special compartment. The rooms are kept warm and the floor clean. At the old school the space was so crowded and everything so dirty that all those who were able "ditched" taking a shower, but at the new school it is something to be looked forward to.

The Citizens' Transfer & Storage Company of Tucson, Arizona, operates a fleet of eighteen trucks in local and long distance hauling. Zerolene is used exclusively.

ZEROLENE succeeds "EASTERN" and lubricates better

With the passing of the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern oils, just because they cost more, Zerolene sales have increased seven-fold in the last seven years.

The following extract from a recent letter written us by the Citizens' Transfer & Storage Company of Tucson, Arizona, has some bearing on the reasons for this increase:

"Previous to using your Zerolene oils we experienced considerable trouble with eastern oils, which were much higher in price, and we found not suited to our use. We have used Zerolene oils and greases for the past five years. Our equipment (18 trucks and 2 passenger cars) is operated continuously throughout the year and the maintenance has been confined to keeping it supplied with the proper amount of oil and grease; bearings have required only reasonable adjustment after long intervals, and no replacements. We were well pleased with our recent quarterly check on the mechanical condition of our equipment, and knowing this condition to be maintained by the use of your oils and greases, we thought your company would be interested to know of our complete satisfaction."

We believe that Zerolene will improve the gasoline mileage, reduce carbon deposits, and lengthen the working life of every car in which it is used.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene even if it does cost less.

HELEN WILLS SHY ON LONDON COURT

Practicing Constantly But Bothered by Reporters And Photographers

LONDON, May 28.—Miss Helen Wills, queen of the tennis racket and the shyest champion the United States ever sent to Great Britain, has become so embarrassed by reporters and photographers that her game has suffered seriously it was learned this afternoon.

Miss Wills fled from the luxurious London hotel, where she was living and has taken quarters in a secluded little hotel at Wimbledon adjoining the tennis courts. Now she is able to practice all day long undisturbed.

Moreover, she has extracted a pledge from the Wimbledon tennis officials they will not allow newspapermen to approach her during the present week.

Miss Wills is devoting all her time to practice, playing against several prominent men players who are astonished at her speed and terrific driving power. She has repeatedly scored outright despite her opponents' strongest service. Miss Wills' modesty and femininity have already made her one of the most popular Americans that ever played at the Wimbledon courts. She will play an exhibition game at Chiswick on Friday. So far she has not played in any public matches.

FOR GAME'S SAKE

By LAWRENCE PERRY,
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, May 28.—When the Central Committee of the Intercollegiate Football Rules committee meets in this city a week from next Friday, at least one very important subject will come up for consideration. It relates to the general overhauling of the officiating system, with special reference to the remuneration of the arbiters of play.

The writer has conversed with several prominent football officials in the past few days and finds a general sentiment in favor of an upward revision of officials' fees. And it would not be at all surprising if the newly organized officials association were to bring this point to bear upon the football solons at their early June meeting.

What strength have the officials in any stand they may take? Primarily they have that strength which comes of comparatively small numbers, with still fewer who stand forth as thoroughly competent men.

Everyone knows that a football game can be utterly ruined by inept officiating and it makes no difference whether this ineptitude relates to the rules or the handling of players. The very life of the game, one might say, depends upon the competency of officials.

And yet, the importance of these men, while tacitly recognized, is not appreciated in any material way—not in the east in any event. Remuneration of football officials in this section is based upon the rank of the elevens engaged. If both opponents are of major grade then the officials received a certain sum. If one is of major and the other of minor rating, as, say Pennsylvania and Deleware, then the officials receive a smaller sum. In brief, the whole system of payment is based upon this arbitrary grading of merit of teams.

In the Western Conference—and among other conference organizations in the middle west—officials receive a set sum for all games in which teams of the conference are involved. In the east an able referee may receive but $35 for working in a game whose local importance, at least, is great.

In fact some colleges whose athletic directors have a higher opinion of the importance of one game or another, than the central board has, will pay officials in accordance with big game rates, or approximately so, ignoring the official appraisal of the value of the contest.

Many instances could be cited to show that this situation is one that should be dealt with in an open minded and scientific manner.

HOMER TOO MUCH

The games between the Cards and Reds had a tragic touch when a spectator dropped dead of heart disease after Daubert hit a home run. The teams divided the twin bill, the Cards winning the opener 4 to 3 but dropping the twilight 3 to 1.

GAME WAS CLOSE

The Pirates' timely hitting defeated the clubs in the tenth, 5 to 4. The Cubs tied it up in the ninth when they drove Kremer to the showers but Morrison saved the day.

TIGERS CLAW BROWNS

Although Sisler broke his hitless streak, it awailed the Browns naught, the Tigers winning out 5 to 4 when Bert Cole scored his first victory of the season.

Brown Eliminated By Birnie In Golf Meet In Scotland

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 28.—Francis Brown, the lone American competing, was eliminated from the British amateur golf championship today by Birnie, the Scot, two and one, in the second round. Douglas Grant, a former Californian, but playing under the colors of a British club, was still in the running.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, May 28.—The Pirates beat the Cubs in ten innings here yesterday, 5 to 4. Chicago made a grand rally in the ninth after trailing through the game and tied the score, knocking Kremer out of the box. The tying run was scored on a wild pitch by Morrison. Three hits off of Kaufman in the tenth sent across the winning run. Kremer held Chicago to two hits up to the ninth inning.

ST. LOUIS May 28.—The Cardinals and the Reds split yesterday's double-header, the locals winning the first game, 4 to 3, but losing the second, 3 to 1. In the first game Cincinnati tied the score on a triple by Pinelli in the ninth inning, only to lose out in the last half when the Cardinals scored one run. Mays was very effective in the second game.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Ermino Spalla didn't tarry long in New York after his arrival from Brazil on the American Legion. We went straight out to the farm near Summit, N. J., where Vicentini, Rojas and other dark-skinned boxers are training. Spalla says he is ready for the best of the American heavies as soon as he gets his sea legs. He said he hit Firpo so hard in their bout that they have to give him a long, long count and that thereafter Luis avoided all offers of a return meeting. Spalla, who talks English very well, thinks Firpo is really sick of the prize ring.

Looking back into records, talking with old timers and ransacking one's own memory fais to unearth any occasion upon which a title bout has been fought in Pennsylvania. Funny, isn't it?

Thus, the bout on June 2 between Mickey Walker and Lew Tendler is bound to be epoch-making in at least one way, no matter what happens. The first championship bout ever held in the state. This is not to say that champions have not boxed in the Keystone commonwealth but it seems to be the first time that thrones were likely—more or less to be overturned.

Of course, Lefty Lew may be setting himself up as a man of straw to be knocked down. The way he evaded a second meeting with Nate Goldman did not argue that he is as stuck on his ability these days. But Mickey Walker is not taking any chances, is working as hard out in Bye's Summit farm as though he were preparing for Benny Leonard.

Bobby Barrett is the latest lightweight to announce he is getting heavy and will hereafter fight in the welter class. This is a sure sign that the welter division is beginning to develop some prestige.

SENSATIONAL CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—While armed guards patrolled the Los Angeles aqueduct over its entire length in Inyo county, introduction of a resolution by Councilman Ralph L. Criswell in the City Council, charging that Los Angeles interests with ulterior motives were indirectly responsible for bombing of the aqueduct a week ago, caused a sensation here. Criswell demanded a thorough investigation by state and federal authorities of the dynamiting.

COLIMA WINS IN BOUT WITH WELLS

London Scrapper Starts Too Late In Fast Battle In Vernon Arena

Bert Colima, Whittier Mexican, was given the decision over Bombardier Billy Wells of London last night in the main event at Doyle's Vernon arena. It was the local boy's third start against the invader. He had lost the two previous fights, one on a decision and the other on a foul.

Colima's victory last night was clean cut. He won the first two rounds, the third was even, and Wells took the fourth by a mile. Wells started too late in the opinion of the experts at the ringside. So everything is all set for a rematch.

Dode Bercot, Seattle logger, drew a tartar in Don Davis, substituting for Papke. Bercot was given a decision which he did not earn. The decision was booed, as is the usual custom.

Charlie Glaser beat Harry La Barre; Eddie Sylvester got the decision over Johnny Carlson; K. O. Kelly got the nod over Young Corbett; Manny Kaplan and Jack White fought to a draw; as did Eddie McAuliffe and Phil Lewis in the opener.

SPORT WISDOM

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A court battle to enforce one's right to play in a golf tournament would be a decided novelty, but the writer is not sure but that Jim Barnes could get the courts to put him into the open championship tournament if he chose to take such an appeal from the decision of the United States Golf association against him.

The damage to a professional golfer resulting from disbarment from an opportunity to win a championship which would be a marked financial asset to him in the business of golfing, could be easily proved. And in Barnes' case, his record undoubtedly would be regarded as proof of the possibility of his winning or making such a showing as would be advantageous to him in his profession.

The only other thing Barnes would need to prove was that the committee failed to notify him as to the closing date for entries. And if the committee could not show a registry sheet, or otherwise prove it had mailed a blank to Barnes, the court probably would direct the committee to accept his belated application.

It certainly is tough on Barnes to be barred from the open, especially when it appears that it was through no fault of his own.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 28.—The slump in automobile sales here is attributed to used car congestion which has become acute since the liquidation of motor mart which attempted to act as a used car clearing house for retail dealers.

CLEVELAND, May 28. — The Peerless factory is steadily maintaining the production schedule which was followed last month. While shipments for the year, so far, have been almost as heavy as those of last year.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Present prices for automobiles are about as low as they can be bought and still maintain American building standards, according to A. P. Sloan, president of General Motors.

LIVE STOCK

ST. PAUL, May 28.—As a result of experiments by farm experts of the University of Minnesota, marl, a mineral found extensively in this state, will be used in large quantities to fatten hogs and as a corrective of acid soil. The mineral has been successfully substituted for air-slacked lime or ground limestone as part of the diet for growing hogs.

BOSTON, May 28.—The Pocasset Manufacturing company of Fall River has closed down indefinitely, and the cotton division of the American Printing company which operated in full last week is idle this week.

FLOUR

PORTLAND, Ore., May 28.—China again is in the market for northwestern flour, paying an advanced price in line with wheat quotations. Portland mills are receiving fair orders from Shanghai and Hongkong.

RAILROAD EQUIPMENT

PHILADELPHIA, May 28. — The local Chamber of Commerce has received numerous inquiries recently from Mexico for box, flat and tank cars, knocked down and ready to assemble.

WIRE

WEST BROOKFIELD, Mass., May 28.—The Wheeldon Wire company has been so rushed with orders that it has been necessary to put on a night shift at the local plant.

FRUIT

HOUSTON, May 28.—The first peaches from the Rio Grande valley have made their appearance on the market here. The raising of this fruit in the Rio Grande section was an experiment this year. Strawberries netted growers in this county $500 an acre this season.

ST. LOUIS, May 28. — Howell county is receiving a large number of homeseekers under colonization schemes which involve extensive grape growing.

ONANCOCK, Va., May 28. — Strawberries in tremendous shipments will be moving from the eastern shore of Virginia to northern markets by the end of the month. Northampton county will have the largest crop in its history. The crop in the Delmarvia peninsula will total 35,000,000 quarts.

SILK

SEATTLE, May 28.—Japanese silk shipments valued at $15,000,000, which arrived here on the steamships President Grant and Arabia Maru, now are on the way to New York in special trains. These were the two most valuable silk cargoes ever to reach this port.

VEGETABLES

BALTIMORE, May 28.—Vegetable and fruit crops in general in Maryland and Delaware are making slow progress. Some early truck acreage has been abandoned, although tomato acreage on the eastern shore is expected to show an increase. Strawberries are fruiting in southern counties.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, May 28.—The governors of the New York stock exchange today granted the petition signed by the majority of the members to close the exchange on Saturday, May 31, the day following Decoration day.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Prices merely drifted on the stock exchange today. Initiative appeared to be almost wholly lacking. The approaching holiday was no doubt a restraining factor, as was the uncertainty regarding the president's action on the revenue bill.

There was some investment buying in the better class of stocks. The purely speculative shares were under pressure by the professional element, which found their offerings fairly quickly absorbed.

Steel shares turned easier in the afternoon in spite of the better tone of the mid-week reviews. The whole market, in fact, showed increased heaviness after the noon hour, but transactions continued extremely light. Congoleum, Pullman and International Paper stood out among the specialties because of their strength.

Trading in the rail division was exceedingly dull, with prices showing only minor changes.

Money conditions were easy, call money going at 3 per cent, after opening at 3½ per cent.

Bonds were generally irregular. Fresh weakness in St. Paul obligations was an outstanding feature. Grains were heavy. Cotton displayed steadiness. Foreign exchanges were irregular.

Trading came almost to a standstill in the final hour, indicating a complete absence of speculative interest. The majority of stocks continued to fluctuate narrowly around the low prices of the day. The market closed irregular.

Stock sales tdoay, 446,200 shares; bonds, $12,282,000.

BUSINESS NEWS

By OWEN L. SCOTT.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Railroads maintaining shops in ths section have generally adopted the policy of cutting down the working week now that they are confronted with a slowing up of business. Several companies have established a 5 day a week schedule in their repair shops, putting about 30,000 workers on a part time basis. Freight business is reported by several carriers, to be lagging at present. Rolling stock in general is in good shape and the repairs incident to the movement of the crops have not yet made their appearance.

Many freight cars are temporarily idle in preparation for this movement of agricultural produce to market.

ATLANTA, May 28.—Wholesale business in the southeast is below the peak of the year but a canvass of the jobbing houses today reveals the fact that business in the last week showed some improvement over the week before and indications of further improvement in orders from the smaller retailers is not lacking as hot weather approaches.

Men's furnishers following the lead of a large firm which is about to build a new store and is disposing of its entire stock have reduced prices on seasonable merchandise and are doing a volume of business which it is expected will surpass any record for this time of year made since 1919.

RICHMOND, Va., May 28.—Richmond's street transportation squabble has developed into a four cornered fight. When the Jitneys first became popular years ago they were opposed by the Virginia Railway and Power Company, which operated the electric cars. About a year ago the Rapid Transit Company was organized and put a string of large buses in streets were the jitneys operated. A recent meeting of the city council granted permission for the buses to operate on different streets from the jitneys. Several of the erstwhile jitney operators, however have purchased small buses and are running on the jitney streets. This has caused a break in the jitney organization with each faction fighting all the others.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, May 28.—Grains had a weak undertone today and prices sagged off. At the end, wheat was down ⅜ to ⅝; corn, ⅞ to 1 off and oats ¼ to ½ lower. Trade in wheat was small. Buying support was lacking in corn, particularly September, in which liquidation appeared.

Oats were weak with other grains and because of scattered selling, centered upon September.

Provisions were dull and easier.

BUSINESS WORLD

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Undoubtedly the action of congress and the president on tax legislation will be closely watched by business and industry during the coming week, but other factors are expected to be more potent in the business situation. If demand for products is satisfactory, plants producing those products will run at an increased rate without paying much attention to what is done with tax legislation, according to many thoughtful financiers. A reduction of taxes undoubtedly would be esteemed of benefit to the heavier taxpayers but it is held it would have little effect on the actual purchasing power of the country as a whole, on which the activity of business mainly rests.

For this reason, close students of business are watching the steel, automobile and agricultural situation more closely than the actions of congress. In the first named industry it is notable that prices have held better than might have been expected in view of the light demand. Steel mills have recognized that of late years conditions have changed. Productive capacity is so large at present that prices do not rebound easily after they have been forced to low levels. Producers therefore have kept their production costs strictly in mind and have avoided developing an unprofitable market. Steel men say there still may be some additional declines in some products which have not as yet suffered drops, but indications are that the market is not engaged in a continuous decline. In fact many believe the bottom has been reached.

Bars, shapes and plates have held well for the last fortnight and the stiffening in the attitude of independent producers of sheets is regarded as having aided sentiment to a marked degree. Two blast furnaces and one merchant stack have been closed down in the Chicago district and ingot production is down to sixty per cent of capacity for the large producers and 50 per cent for the smaller plants. Nevertheless small but numerous orders are keeping producers in fair shape.

Announcement that the Ford Company will close down on Decoration Day and next Saturday, May 31, is taken by many in Detroit to indicate that the company may discontinue Saturday work throughout the summer. This action it is felt, is a precautionary measure to insure balancing sales and output. Present sales volume would hardly make curtailment by the Ford plants necessary but company officials are understood to have thought it best to take this action.

Sales based on actual deliveries the first three weeks of May and with the last of the month estimated, are expected to exceed those of the corresponding period of last year by 125,000 vehicles. Daily sales are surpassing those of last year by one thousand cars.

The Ford check however, puts practically all the plants in the Michigan district on reduced schedules. How long they will be kept on such schedules depends largely on the weather. Should sales show a jump in June, productions would be speeded up at once and materials now being ordered for fall delivery indicate beyond question that heavy fall schedules are being prepared for. All eyes in the automobile trade are on the price situation and a dozen makers are ready to announce advances if further restriction of quantity production becomes necessary.

Building activity does not seem to have been affected in Detroit but in many other cities, the main interest seems to be in securing completion of structures already undertaken in time for the fall renting period rather than in laying out and starting new building programs.

Cotton estimates which have been announced by private statisticians do not give great hopes for a heavy crop and the amount of raw cotton which will be available later in the year, is rendered more uncertain by continued heavy buying from abroad.

ST. PAUL, May 28.—The gross revenues of the St. Paul City Railway for the first four months of this year amounted to $1,658,151, a decrease of $74,350, as compared with last spring. The operating income, however, showed a gain of $59,748.

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—The gross earnings of the United Railways here for the first three weeks of this months showed a falling off of $60,000, as compared with May, 1923. About $40,000 of this loss is attributed to motor bus competition.

CHICAGO, May 28. — Gross earnings of the Northwest Utilities company's subsidiaries during the last year amounted to $5,669,677, compared with $2,353,038 the previous year. Net earnings were $2,192,024, compared with $928,821. A large part of Wisconsin is served with electricity by this holding company.

The Chicago Great Western railroad has asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to nominally issue $2,000,000 of first mortgage 50-year 4 per cent bonds to reimburse its treasury for money expended from the income in the period from December 1, 1920, to July 21, 1921.

Surplus freight cars on May 14 totaled 319,106, a decrease of 5,673 since May 7.

Raw silk in Japan has dropped another 20 yen, making New York equivalent prices for double extra crack $5.60 a pound, a new low. Stocks in New York are low and actual sales of spot silk have been somewhat above this price.

Gasoline consumption of twenty states having a gasoline tax or inspection laws increased 21.2 per cent in March to 132,605,996 gallons against 109,387,080 in March, 1922, according to the American Petroleum institute. In the first three months this year gasoline consumption totaled 380,056,259 gallons, an insurance of 60,584,854 or 18.4 per cent over the same period of 1923.

Domestic production of cigarets in the first four months of this year ran over 10 per cent higher than the 1923 period and over 55 per cent in excess of 1923.

THE MOST Delightful HOME

that we have ever seen offered for $10,500 is the following:

A Two Story Stucco (entirely sheeted with 1x6 boards) in Beautiful Bellehurst.

Downstairs there is a cheerful, Cozy Living Room, Tapestry wall paper, furnace, etc.—a Dining Room that DOES NOT open from Living Room. This is one of the pleasantest rooms in the house, with double French Doors opening on to patio and lawns—Another room with separate entrance, also full of windows, is suitable either for Bed Room or Library—A Cloak Closet, Hall, Complete Modern Kitchen, (tile sink) back porch and toilet, complete the ground floor arrangement.

Upstairs there are two very large bed rooms either of which would accommodate twin beds, and an Up to date Tile Bath Room.

There is a double garage, built-same as house—Beautiful Clover Lawns, front and rear—with shade trees, etc.

WE HAVE NEVER BEFORE OFFERED A BUY LIKE THIS FOR $10,500—REASONABLE TERMS.

ODELL TALKS AT C. C. FORUM MEET

Urges Support for School Bonds at Election to Be Held June 3

EAGLE ROCK, May 28.—The regular monthly open forum Chamber of Commerce meeting, held last night at the Eagle Rock school, was featured by an address from President Robert Odell of the Los Angeles board of education on the necessity of voting the school bonds at the election of June 3.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Ritchey have returned to their home on Maywood avenue after a six months' trip around the world. Since their return from Europe the Ritcheys have been visiting in various parts of Texas. One of their most enjoyable visits was that made to Mr. Ritchey's old home in Gainesville. They also stopped in Denton and in Marietta, Oklahoma, where Mr. Ritchey's brother makes his home. Mr. Ritchey is a member of the firm of the Eagle Rock Hardware and Furniture company, and the many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey are glad to welcome them home again.

Visit to Scotland

William and Mrs. Middlemass have left for their trip to Scotland. The congregation of the Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Middlemass is pastor, and many others with whom they have come in contact in their work for the community, will miss them during their absence of about one month.

O. J. Root, former president of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce and prominent member of the Kiwanis club, is in Moline, Ill., attending to business interests.

Herbert H. Mason, chairman of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is reported to be convalescent, following a serious operation performed at Angelus hospital.

Miss Edna Orcutt entertained eight girl friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Orcutt of 5201 Maywood avenue. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out in all decorations. The guests included Mrs. George Simmons, Mrs. La Verne Watson and the Misses Dorothy Miller, Marion Peake, Katherine MacKay, Viola Nelson, Louise Modellnog and Hazel Gillette.

Old German races ridiculed Roman cavalry for riding with saddles, calling them effeminate contrivances.

CELEBRATION TO LAST THREE DAYS

Goodfellows' Club Sponsors Entertainment Program for July Fourth

BURBANK, May 28.—A three-day July 4 celebration is being planned here under the auspices of the Goodfellows' club. Harry L. Leavitt of Los Angeles will have the program in charge.

Mr. Leavitt, an old-time friend of Charles B. Wood, president of the Goodfellows' club, has spent forty years in the show business and understands the matter of providing what the public likes in the way of entertainment, from Alpha to Omega, according to his friends. He has a long list of highly successful celebrations of various kinds to his credit, including the affair held at Glendale last year, which was housed in what is claimed to have been the longest tent in the world—1000 feet long.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving and daughter and Mrs. Snyder and daughter Lulu of Tujunga avenue were dinner guests Sunday at Downey, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Streim, neighbors forty years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howe spent Sunday in Pasadena at the home of relatives. While there, a former Colorado friends whom they had not seen for nine years was discovered in the person of Edward Farrel.

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

EAGLE ROCK, May 28.—Much "dolling up" of local property is evidenced by the building permits, which show innumerable small expenditures to make residence and business places more attractive.

Dr. Harry B. Crawford and family of Adams avenue enjoyed an outing at their lodge at Camp Baldy last week-end. Mrs. W. D. Seaman, mother of Mrs. Crawford, has returned from a visit to Strathmore.

The Eagle Rock pioneers were treated to a trip to Pasadena, where they visited the P. M. C. A., engaged in some delightful games and enjoyed a swim.

The Misses Louise and Fanny Baily and the Misses Gertrude adn Anna Kennedy attended a P. E. O. meeting at Hollywood.

Miss Wilhelmina Bennett of 5250 Shearin avenue was at home from Santa Ana for the week-end

Rev. B. B. and Mrs. Wetherall and Mrs. W. I. Ong, were visitors at "Pacific Lodge" boys' house, near Walnut.

Name New Committee For Boy Scout Troop

MONTROSE, May 28.—The Montrose Boy Scout Patrol now boasts a new committee with Captain W. D. Southwick, Dr. E. L. Wemple, and A. E. Baron serving as members. An addition has been made in the person of Lieutenant John A. Malone, who will aid George Nelson as Scout Master. Lieut. Malone will be a valuable aid to Mr. Nelson, as he has had twenty-seven years' experience in drill work and understands boys and their needs. Following are the officers of the local patrol scribe: John Hansen, senior patrol leader; Frank Hopkins, patrol No. 12; Edwin Basil Brokes, patrol leader; John D. Tinnen, assistant patrol leader; Luther A. Lewis, Billy Bowman, Elmer Adkins, Parker Barshaw and Harry Tate.

Patrol No. 2, Charles E. Hampson, patrol leader; Donald J. Skellie, assistant leader; John Hansen, Siegel R. Swain, Ardell Stone. Verdugo Hills Post No. 288 of the American Legion is behind this Boy Scout patrol.

The Roscenta chorus have planned an exceptionally fine program for this week's community sing. The American Legion members will be present in a body and will have charge of the program. Special Decoration Day services will be a feature of the evening's program. Every one is urged to make an effort to be present to honor the departed.

The Community Sing is to be held this week at the Montrose school house and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

C. of C. Plans Welcome To Civil Engineer

The annual convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, that is to be held in Pasadena in June, will see the passage through Glendale of a caravan, including all of the delegates to the convention from all over this country, according to E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Plans are under way when the caravan passes through Glendale on June 19 en route from Pasadena to Culver City to welcome the engineers and escort them through the city.

HURT BY EXPLOSION

VIENNA, May 28.—Several persons were injured by an explosion upon an Italian torpedo boat in the Danube, near Linz, Tuesday.

ELECT OFFICERS AT ANNUAL MEET

La Crescenta P.-T.A. Names New Executives to Direct Year's Business

LA CRESCENTA, May 28.—The La Crescenta Parent-Teacher association yesterday held their annual election of officers to serve through the coming year. The following persons were elected:

President, Mrs. C. W. Angier; first vice-president, Mrs. Glen Myers; second vice-president, Mrs. Dolly Craig; recording secretary, Mrs. A. V. Adkins, re-elected to succeed herself; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edith Van Dusen; treasurer, Mrs. Jessie Hansen, re-elected to succeed herself; parliamentarian, Mrs. A. C. Haskins; historian, Mrs. Mary B. Darrow.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. A. V. Adkins, the rules were waived and the reading of the minutes of the last meeting held over till the June meeting. Mrs. S. B. Young, chairman of the membership committee, reported 268 members as the year's enrollment.

Gift of Piano

Mrs. E. W. Reinhard, who was appointed to see about the piano for the Montrose school, reported the Montecito club had presented their club piano to the school. The Parent-Teacher association passed a vote of thanks to the Montecito club for this opportune gift and the secretary was instructed to write a letter of thanks to the club.

Mrs. Reinhard also told of the chairs the Montecito club wished to dispose of and the Parent-Teachers' association voted to purchase them at the club's price. These chairs will be used in the Montrose schoolhouse.

Mrs. Angier extended a cordial invitation on behalf of the district board to attend the installation of officers and requested all who wished to be present to notify her.

Summer Schools

Discussion of the benefit derived by joining the Parent-Teacher's Federation resulted in a motion to table the action till the next meeting.

Mr. Blanford spoke about the proposed summer school to be conducted here in Montrose. Mrs. T. Boyer will have charge of the Montrose school and Mrs. Eyre of the La Crescenta branch. The number of pupils will be limited to fifteen in both schools and the subjects studied will also be limited to two. Parents who are anxious to enroll their children should see these teachers at once. Classes will start two weeks after vacation begins and will be in session for six weeks. Hours will be from 8 to 12, with rest and recess periods during the morning. Fees will be $9 for one subject or $15 for two.

Urges Playgrounds

Mr. Blanford spoke on the summer playground with a competent paid instructor asking that the Parent-Teacher association indorse the project without committing themselves in the matter of operation expenses. After discussing the matter from all angles the association went on record as being in favor of a properly conducted summer playground for boys and girls alike.

After the election and business meeting the women returned to the auditorium where they enjoyed the exhibit of the pictures of the Hawaiian islands.

SERVICE HONORS NATION'S HEROES

Verdugo Legion Post Attends Memorial Exercises at Community Church

LA CRESCENTA, May 28.—The memorial services held in the La Crescenta Community church were well attended, the Verdugo Hills Post No. 288 of the American Legion being present in a body. Rev. Kelso, pastor of the church, delivered an appropriate sermon in keeping with the day. Special music was rendered by the choir and Mrs. Embert Brown sang "Home Again."

The evening services were conducted by a delegation from Y. M. B. I. of the Church of the Open Door, in Los Angeles. Rev. White Magee gave the principal address of the evening.

Mr. Kelso extends a cordial invitation to all residents of the valley who have no particular church home here, to come to the La Crescenta Community church.

Mr. and Mrs. Huber have moved into their new home on East Piedmont avenue. This is the third house built by Mr. Huber in La Crescenta valley during the last two years.

Philip Brown is now out of danger and is recovering from his recent attack of ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen have returned from an auto trip up the coast as far as San Jose. The travelers report that in Bakersfield it was so hot the men were all coatless. The rest of the country through which the autoists traveled was cold and foggy.

Summer Courses Will Be Held in Schools

BURBANK, May 28.—Summer schools will be established here in each of the five grammar schools. The courses will be six weeks in length. The term will begin June 23 and close August 1. The hours will be from 8 until 12 o'clock daily. Following is the list of teachers who will serve:

Joaquin Miller School — Mrs Wickersham, principal.

Luther Burbank School—Mrs. Swaim, principal.

Thomas A. Edison School—Miss Farrar, principal, for grades 5 and 6; Mrs. Alvas, for grades 3 and 4.

Abraham Lincoln School—Miss Melody.

Boosters for the Central avenue region will organize themselves into a civic improvement club at a meeting called for the purpose, to be held next Wednesday night, according to an announcement made yesterday by John Sommer.

Want Glendale Entry In Kiddies' Pageant

Glendale's participation in the Kiddies' Pageant that is to be held at Santa Monica on June 22 is sought in a communication addressed to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce by the Santa Monica-Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce. The matter has been referred to the Parent-Teachers' association for action.

Autos for Veterans On Decoration Day

Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce has asked the directors to furnish automobiles to transport the old soldiers in the Decoration day parade that is to be held on Friday, May 30. The request was forwarded to Mr. Sanders by the officials of American Legion Post No. 127, and will receive the consideration of the directors.

New Head of College Publication at Work

Kenneth Wilson, newly elected editor-in-chief of the "Occidental," the student publication of that institution, has taken over the position of editor and assumed the duties of editor in chief. He will compose the last two editions of the weekly paper to be printed this semester. Thurston Harshman, the retiring editor, issued his last copy yesterday morning.

Public Wienie Bake Sponsored by C. of C.

SUNLAND, May 28.—A public wienie bake picnic will be given Thursday evening in Monte Vista park by the Sunland Chamber of Commerce.

Plenty of picnic attractions will be furnished by the Chamber. There will be speeches by the officials and visiting officials. An impromptu program of entertainment will be given by local talent that will include musical numbers and recitations.

HARKNESS OWNERS!

OLIVE SHIPMENT TOTALS 50 TONS

New York Takes 1455 Cases Of Sunland Cannery Company's Output

SUNLAND, May 28.—A shipment of 1455 cases, the equivalent of 50 tons of canned olives, are to be shipped this week from the Sunland Ripe Olive Cannery company's plant here to New York. This shipment will be made by boat from Los Angeles harbor and will be the last of the season from this cannery, which closes its run the first week in June.

Five carloads of ripe olives have been shipped during the past five weeks, three to Boston and two to New York. The cannery has enjoyed one of the most prosperous season's business in its history, according to A. Adams, Jr., proprietor, who said that the local business is increasing satisfactorily and that the Seattle business is very good this year.

For several years after the Sunland cannery was put in operation it depended on the local crop of olives for a supply, but for the past three seasons has been taking the crops of several growers in the San Joaquin valley vicinity. Mr. Adams makes a trip each year to the north and buys up his supply for the season.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, May 28.—A. Adams, Jr., proprietor, and two foremen of the Sunland Ripe Olive Cannery, will attend the olive packer's convention at San Diego, June 5 and 6.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. William Lancaster, Alfred Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Quinnel Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaffer spent Sunday at Laguna Beach.

A swimming party was recently enjoyed at the Begue ranch in Tujunga by a party of Sunland people composed of Mrs. F. R. Williams, Mrs. Shaffer, Mrs. Quinnel Adams, Mrs. Elmer Adams, Miss Catherine Crews and Edward Crews.

The Monte Vista Parent-Teacher Association gave a basket supper at Monte Vista park Monday evening.

The Afternoon Sewing club held the weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Curt Meyers.

Alfred Stevens, Sunland postmaster, was a guest at a cinema entertainment at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaffer have been making improvements on their property on Walnut drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry have left for an extended auto trip to Oregon and Washington where they will visit their sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clark of Morgan road, and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Ruppel and daughter Hortense spent the week-end at Pismo Beach. Clam bakes and clam fries were enjoyed by the party.

Will Remodel Hotel At Cost of $100,000

TUJUNGA, May 28.—A contract for remodeling the Arrowhead hotel at Arrowhead Hot Springs has been awarded R. J. Smith, Tujunga contractor. Work will begin June 15, when the government, which has been using the hotel for a hospital, is scheduled to turn it back to the owners.

Extensive alterations are planned, and will involve the expenditure of $100,000. Mr. Smith will employ 150 local men in the work, which will be done under the general direction of Mr. Marshall, president of the Arrowhead Hotel company.

Factory Employes to Stage Annual Picnic

SUNLAND, May 28.—Employes of the Sunland Ripe Olive Cannery company will go to Laguna Beach June 9 for their annual picnic, given them by the company.

Nearly fifty employes will enjoy the four days' outing this year. Each year, at the close of the canning season, the company takes all cannery workers on a picnic to some resort, and these outings are events that are looked forward to with great pleasure.

Don't Buy Roofing on the Installment Plan
Why buy ordinary roofing that you have to paint every three years to prevent its drying out and leaking? Buy MALTHOID ROOFING that requires no paintings for ten years.
The first cost of Malthoid Roofing is less than the cost of paintings on other roofings, and its first cost is its only cost.
